EXPLOSION IN MANHOLE

Great Excitement in Moody St. When Gas Exploded Sending Manhole Cover Soaring

The business people and residents in the vicinity of Moody and Cabot streets were startled this morning about 7.30 o'clock by an explosion of gas in a manhole in Moody street, which lifted the cover of the manhole about 15 or 20 feet in the air, shattered plate and window glass in stores and brought people scurrying from all points to see what had happened. People who were passing through the street were deafened by the noise and when they saw the cover of the manhole shooting skyward they showed a disposition to run the other way. Fortunately there were no persons crossing the street near the manhole, nor were there any vehicles passing by or else there might be a sadder tale to tell. The explosion was caused by the accumulation of either illuminating or sewer gas in a manhole in front of the liquor saloon of Merrier & Co. at 385 Moody street, which was ignited by a spark from the short circuiting of wires in an underground conduit. Joseph Plette, a clerk in the employ of Merrier & Co., heard a rumbling sound in the basement, he says, and going to the door leading to the cellar was almost overcome by a noxious odor of gas. He then rushed into the street and lifted up a bulkhead leading from the sidewalk to the cellar and had just raised the lid when the cover of the manhole in the middle of the street shot high in the air with a resounding report. Immediately following the explosion there was a shattering of glass, several windows in Merrier's place being broken, both window frames in the front of the store were loosened, several windows across the street were broken and a number of smaller panes of glass in tenements in the vicinity were smashed. An investigation as to the cause of the explosion was made and those who looked into the matter were of the opinion that the manhole in the street had become filled with either illuminating or sewer gas and when wires in the conduit became short-circuited the gas was ignited and the explosion occurred. Running from the manhole into the basement of the saloon is an iron pipe which contains several feed wires. It is thought that on some recent occasion when barrels of beer were being dropped through the bulkhead that the pipe was dented causing the wires to come together and that subsequently the insulation became worn and that this morning two of the exposed wires came together and formed a short circuit which ignited the gas. Several holes were burned through the conduit which leads into the cellar. The explosion could be heard for a distance of about a mile and it was not long before hundreds of people were on the scene. Owing to the fact that there was smoke issuing from the cellar of the saloon the members of Hose 3 in Merrimack street were called and found that several timbers had been charred.

WILLEHAD THERE WAGE INCREASE

Big German Liner Arrived at New London This Morning

NEW LONDON, August 25.—The German steamer Willehad which had been tied up at Boston since the outbreak of the European war, and which sailed from there yesterday by way of the Cape Cod canal, arrived here this morning. Heavy fog held up the steamer during the night but the weather cleared at day break and the Willehad came directly up the harbor to the new state pier. It is expected to tie up for an indefinite period at the pier on which are new storage sheds of the Eastern Forwarding company, the American agents for the German line of submarine merchantmen.

LOOKING FOR HIS FATHER

Supt. Welch is in receipt of a letter from a hotel keeper in New York asking for information concerning a man named Bourrel, who formerly resided at 550 Merrimack street, this city. The writer states that a son of Mr. Bourrel is employed by him and that he would like very much to know the whereabouts of his father.

CHALIFOUX'S
ON THE SQUARE

WHAT IS IN A NAME?

Do you ever stop and think of the different impressions names make upon you? What they mean literally and figuratively? Is it not the distinct individuality of a name that makes an impression on a person, sometimes pleasing, and other times unattractive? It is the name that makes the man, and likewise the business. We believe from practical experience that a name with something characteristic about it helps greatly to procure trade. When a person reads "CHALIFOUX'S ON THE SQUARE" he takes a meaning both literal and figurative. Because, as most people have found out, WE ARE ON THE SQUARE.

GREAT VICTORY FOR FRENCH AT MAUREPAS

Berlin Admits Loss of Village—Big Advance for British Along Somme—Extension of French Offensive South of Somme—Russians Resume Advance Along Asiatic Front—The Turks Evacuate Bitlis—Zeppelin Raid on London

Although the Germans made a heavy attack last night in the Maurepas sector, north of the Somme the French hold Maurepas village, complete occupation of which by French troops was reported last night, has not been shaken, according to this afternoon's official bulletin from Paris. The assault delivered against hill 121, near Maurepas was repulsed with heavy loss to the Germans, the statement declares.

Heavy Bombardment

The intimations contained in press despatches of a possible extension of the French offensive south of the Somme for a distance of 30 miles, from Estrees to Lassigny, seem further borne out by today's official announcement of the continuation of heavy bombardment in the section indicated. The German lines in the vicinity of Lassigny and Hoye are being heavily shelled.

Russians Resume Advance

Despatches from Petrograd announce that the Russians have resumed their advance along the entire Turkish front. Their army in southern Armenia have recently shown marked recuperative power after severe reverses, advancing rapidly and recouping much.

Turks Evacuate Bitlis

The evacuation of Bitlis, 12 miles southwest of Lake Van, by the Turks, is now reported.

Zeppelin Near London

At least one Zeppelin, engaged in last night's air raid over England, worked well inland and unofficial despatches indicate that the aircraft have appeared near London. The official announcement states that nine persons were injured, some fatally, but that the reports on casualties are still incomplete. The official statement from Berlin today admits the capture of Maurepas, the Somme front by the French.

STAMP TAX STRUCK OUT

Proposed Tax on Insurance Policies Eliminated From Revenue Bill—Gallinger Lauds Cannon

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Democrats of the senate finance committee today, yielding to protests from all parts of the country, struck out of the emergency revenue bill the proposed stamp tax on insurance policies, which proposed a tax of one half per cent on each dollar of premium on all policies, including life insurance.

Cannon "the Jonah"

Senator Gallinger, republican leader and one of "the old guard" told the senate today during debate on the revenue bill that former Speaker Cannon was "the Jonah" upon whom the insurgent wing of the republicans heaped blame for their complaint against the Dingley tariff and that the late Senator Aldrich was chosen by them "as his confederate for attack and defamation." The republican leader defended both Representative Cannon and Senator Aldrich.

"As far back as 1896," he declared, "certain politicians began to plant the seed of discontent to break down the protective tariff policy of the republicans and to discredit the acknowledged leaders of that party."

"Men who called themselves republicans," he said, "gave currency to the startling and false theory that the excessive cost of living was due to excessive rates provided by the Dingley tariff."

"So far did this disaffection go," said Senator Gallinger, "that certain republicans began to disclaim responsibility for what they called radical provisions of the Dingley law and began looking about for a Jonah upon whom they might heap the burden of blame and visit the penalties attaching thereto. These men, with the active assistance of the democrats selected for this sacrifice a man who had served his country in the house of representatives thirty years and at all times with more than ordinary honor and distinction. This man, who had earnestly and ably, so long and successfully defended the best interests of our country and than whom no greater patriot nor faithful servant has ever been in the house service, was Joseph Gurney Cannon."

"They declare that 'Cannonism must go' and this cry was echoed all over the land. The chorus was joined in, it must be remembered, by a few republicans of unquestioned power, whose word became law. And then, to show the sincerity of their convictions and their willingness to throw overboard all who stood in their way, the democrats were permitted to select as Mr. Cannon's confederate a man who, out of abundance of learning and energy had for years performed the difficult task connected with the chairmanship of the senate committee on finance; a man who had always, in season and out of season, been true to the republican faith and who had constantly and untiringly worked to bring out invaluable facts that have been used to advantage for the benefit of the nation."

"This man, Nelson W. Aldrich, was chosen for attack and defamation. His clear view enabled him to penetrate the beyonds; and he was able to render service of such inestimable value that few of us can even now realize the worth of the man or appreciate the value of his services to the country. But the word has passed that Aldrichism and Cannonism were responsible for all the wrongs that existed in the body politic, including the increased prices of everything, whether the articles were on the free list or not."

"But the great bulk of the party repudiated the value of the fundamental principles of their political faith, and they now have the satisfaction of seeing a united republican party going forth under the banner of protection to win back the country from the political fate that befell it."

HEADS OF BOTH SIDES CALLED TO WHITE HOUSE

Pres. Wilson Summoned Representatives of Employers and Employees Today

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—President Wilson summoned representatives of the employers and employees involved in the threatened railroad strike, to the White House today for conferences to discuss proposals which have developed out of his original plan of settlement. Arrangements were made for the representatives of employees to see the president at 10.30 o'clock and for the representatives of the employers later. The four brotherhood heads said on entering the White House that they did not know why they had been called by the president. It was understood President Wilson wanted to get their views on legislation under consideration to prevent controversies in the future.

The four brotherhood heads remained with the president an hour and a half but would make no statement on leaving. The president kept the committee waiting for an hour to continue his conference with railroad men.

"The situation in so far as we are concerned," A. B. Garretson, spokesman for the employees, later said, "is absolutely unchanged. No complete, concrete proposition to which the railroads will agree has been tendered us. Our position is exactly the same as it was when we accepted the president's plan. We deviated from it no way whatsoever."

BIG WAR GAME

Naval Officers Look for News of Clash Between Fleets

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Naval officers today looked for news that a battle had occurred between the two fleets participating in a war game in the Atlantic and that a number of casualties had occurred. Anticipating the mythical dead and "wounded" being hurried to land from Rear Admiral Helm's "Blue" defending fleet, naval hospitals at New York, Boston, Newport, Philadelphia and Norfolk were advised to make preparations for receiving and treating patients. The location of theoretical battle with Admiral Mayo's "red" attacking fleet would determine which hospital station was to be taxed most severely.

Navy officers explained today that hypothetical disasters such as the destruction of storage oil tanks at Narragansett yesterday and of the supply stores at Sullow point, Hampton Roads, Wednesday are decreed by the navy department for its own tactical exercises.

Movements of the two fleets were not disclosed today, but the position of the scouts indicate a battle cannot be long delayed.

At the conclusion of the war game the Atlantic fleet will go to the southern drill grounds for the regular September target practice. The reserve ships composing the defenders will accompany the active fleet in order that the naval millitiamen and volunteers may watch the Atlantic fleet at battle practice.

CHRISTMAS SHIP SAILS

SEATTLE, Wash., August 25.—A Christmas ship is on the way from Seattle, today, for Alaska. She is the motor ship Kuskokowim River, which is headed for the stream whose name she bears. Her cargo, which includes Christmas toys and gifts, is destined for seldom-visited points far up the Kuskokowim and other places in the interior.

WORCESTER MEETS LOWELL

Billy Hamilton's Worcester speedboys, including Jimmy Magee, the former Lowell player, arrived here this noon for a two days' visit during which time they will be entertained by Jess Burkett and his tailenders. Worcester is probably Jess Burkett's most deadly enemy in this league as he owned and managed that team with great success in past years. Anxious to make a good start by taking the first game of the series, the Lowell manager used all his baseball knowledge in the encounter at Spalding park this afternoon.

SAYS BREMEN CAPTURED

REPORT THAT SUBMARINE WAS CAUGHT IN NET IN STRAITS OF DOVER

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—The New York City Press association quotes officers of the British merchant marine who arrived here aboard the White Star steamship Baltic, as authority for the statement that the German submarine Bremen has been captured by the British and 33 of her crew of 35 made prisoners of war. The Bremen, according to the account, was captured in the Straits of Dover in a steel net on Aug. 2. The other two members of the Bremen's crew lost their lives.

The Bremen, it was said, while emmeshed in the net was sighted by a British patrol boat her stern under water and her bow high above the surface.

According to the officer quoted the British government has maintained silence in regard to the capture as another trans-atlantic submarine, the America, was said to be on the way here and it was hoped to capture her also.

TO ADJOURN CONGRESS

ADMINISTRATION LEADERS EXPECT IT TO BE ACCOMPLISHED NEXT WEEK

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Administration leaders in congress were today planning adjournment next Friday or Saturday. Senator Simmons, chairman of the finance committee, said he believed it could be done unless unforeseen developments arose. Democratic senate leaders announced their intention to pass the general deficiency bill when it comes from the house next Tuesday, and then pass the revenue bill and adjourn.

Republicans and democratic leaders called absentees to have a quorum in the house Tuesday to dispose of the remaining business. It was stated by democratic leaders that if a quorum was not available by Tuesday adjournment would not be likely until the following week.

My Dear Mr. Murphy: Though recognizing the probability of some harm through the suggestion of evil practices or suspicions to the innocent in "Damaged Goods," I still approve of your production because I believe that the value of the knowledge it conveys to the ignorant more than counterbalances any harm to others. ## SUMMER FIELD MEETING

SENATOR LODGE GUEST OF HONOR AND PRINCIPAL SPEAKER AT WESTFORD GRANGE MEETING

U. S. Senator Henry Cabot Lodge was the guest of honor and the principal speaker at the summer field meeting of Westford grange, which was held yesterday in Westford. On account of the uncertainty of the weather the affair was conducted in the town hall, which was filled to capacity.

Mrs. George B. Ladd of Starbridge, lecturer of the state grange, and during the afternoon music was furnished by the Middlesex County Training school band. At the close of the afternoon a reception was held by Senator Lodge and all present were given an opportunity to meet and talk with the distinguished guest.

The first speaker of the afternoon was Senator Lodge, who spoke in part as follows:

"I suppose I am as ill prepared to discuss agriculture as anybody in the United States. It is not that I am not interested in it, for I have assisted in the passage of many agricultural bills, but as a practical farmer I know almost nothing. I was brought up on the seashore, and while I know something about boats, and the sailing of them, my farming experience was limited to the keeping of one cow, that I finally sold because of the cost of the milk. But I do not forget, as Emerson says, that 'fishermen and farmers should constitute the state.' On this broad foundation was our republic built. By a shocking disregard of the need of protection, our fishing has declined, and the opening of the west, and better transportation caused our farming to do likewise.

"I feel, and I always have felt, and I speak out of an abundance of ignorance—that we have not taken full advantage of the situation created by the great industrial centers of New England. Our cities offer a very great market for our farms. We ought to develop their resources beyond the reach of competition. There is a chance both to make money, and to strengthen the state. Thousands of acres in Massachusetts, if in Europe, would be intelligently cultivated to the last acre. I believe that I can see the time coming when we will develop again the same rural life which the prosperity of our country once rested, and this will breed a truer type of men and women.

"Some other thoughts came into my mind today. I came through Lexington on the way here, and I passed its famous common. No American can pass by that spot without emotion. It was not a very great battle fought there, just a little skirmish in the gray dawn of the morning—but it was one of the most momentous of modern times, for it marked the beginning of the great march of democracy. There are some of us who think that the very existence of democracy is at stake in the struggle going on in Europe at the present time.

"We are becoming much today of Americanism. The value of this is not in the mere sound of the word. What do we really mean by it? Well, I mean what Lexington common typifies. Those men believed that there was something more precious than the life of the individual; something worth fighting and dying for. It must be there seems to be an opinion now that the individual is the only thing of importance. Much may be sacrificed if no hurt comes to him. His life must be saved at all cost.

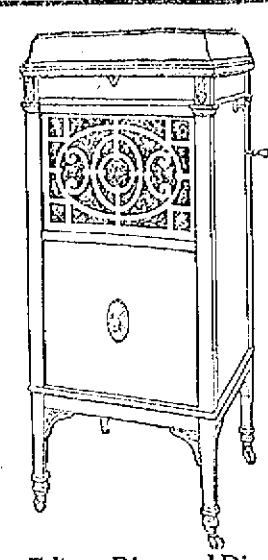

"If this doctrine is right, then those men who came out in the early dawn of Lexington were wrong. Both principles cannot be right.

"A man's sympathy on matters outside of America may be one way or another, but he can love but one country; and that country should be America. Our ancestors fought for freedom, ordered liberty, self government and equality among men, and when the greater trial of the civil war came, went out in thousands and gave their lives to maintain the principles of an undivided union. And these are the only ideals by which this country can live. When we cease to fight for our liberty this country cannot live. When man comes to the conclusion that the highest aim of life is the accumulation of a fortune, then democracy is a failure. I think that this is a time when we should consider these things."

Other speakers who followed were Miss Sturtevant of Lexington, a graduate of the education and fund who made a very charming speech; Warren A. Sheehy of Tyngsboro; George W. Trull of Tewksbury; Immanuel P. Pfeiffer of Bedford; and Lewis E. MacBryne. There were also very pleasing solos by Miss Saxen.

So much stress, deservedly or undeservedly, has been laid upon the disagreeable or unpleasant features of this wonderful play that it is well to recall that after all, its moral is THE TRIUMPH OF MOTHER LOVE. The District Attorney's wife, after her persistent avoidance of the pains and responsibilities of maternity, comes at last to the realization of its great, its holy meaning.

That she, on account of her foolish, ave, her criminal acts, was unable to wear the glorious diadem of motherhood, simply emphasizes the worth of that diadem. The happy mother of the cosmic baby, the no less happy mother of the "olive branches three," with three more calculated upon, are object lessons that cannot be overlooked, and these mothers become the natural objects of envy of the poor rich-women to whom maternity is denied.

And so, "motherhood triumphant" becomes the epitome of "WHERE ARE MY CHILDREN?"

DESPAIRING WOMAN

Now Happy Mother

Mrs. Stephens Did Not Need The Surgical Operation.

Patoka, Ill.—"I had been married five years and my greatest desire was to become a mother. The doctor said I never would have a child unless I was operated on for female troubles and I had given up all hopes when a friend told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it regularly for some time, and I am in better health than ever, and have a healthy baby girl. I praise your Vegetable Compound for my baby and my better health. I want all suffering women to know that it is the sure road to health and happiness."—Mrs. GEORGE STEPHENS, R. F. D. No. 3, Patoka, Ill.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so successful in overcoming woman's ills because it contains the tonic, strengthening properties of good old fashioned roots and herbs, which act on the female organism. Women from all parts of the country are continually testifying to its strengthening, curative influence.

It has helped thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration.

PRAISES PRES. WILSON

Golden Rule Basis of Foreign Policies, Says Secretary of War Baker at Waterville

WATERVILLE, Me., Aug. 25.—Vigorous praise for the administration's European and Mexican policies was the outstanding feature of the address here last night of Secretary of War Newton D. Baker, the principal speaker at a meeting held in connection with the democratic campaign in Maine in behalf of President Wilson. The president's course, Mr. Baker said, "has infused the spirit of the Declaration of Independence and of the golden rule" into this country's foreign relations.

Consistent Program
"I have shown that the administration of President Wilson has followed a consistent program in its domestic legislation," Mr. Baker declared toward the end of his address. "It has prevented the enactment of laws more wholesome and beneficial than perhaps can be credited in the aggregate to the administrations which have intervened since the Civil war. It is inspired by a philosophy which is an expression of the longing of mankind in this day and generation. It has refused to allow itself to be turned aside by foreign violence from the accomplishment of its great program. "The administration has kept the peace. It has done unto Mexico as we would be done by, and has infused the spirit of the Declaration of Independence and of the Golden Rule into its foreign relations. It has maintained friendly relations with the European belligerents, and placed this country in a position from which, when the end of the great European struggle comes, the moral forces of the United States can be exercised in the interests of justice and humanity.

Large Problems Ahead
"Large problems lie before us in the next four years. The reconstruction must take place. No unfamiliar hand should be put in to guide the course of our nation during that period. No uncertain voice should be permitted to speak our spirit at the council table that reorganizes the universe. This is a time when, having pressed forward nobly on a high and difficult course, the finish should be left to those who have demonstrated their ability by their work already done."

During his discussion of the European policies, Mr. Baker said: "There are those who hint, but dare not say, that if they had been in the places of responsibility they would have involved us in that maelstrom. They indulge in a cheap form of eloquence about what they would have done, and affect to believe that in some obscure way we are hurt in our self-pride because all the rest of the

IF YOU WORRY, READ THIS.

Worry never brought any good to anybody. But you say, "I don't worry because I want to. I worry because I can't help it." Or, "I worry because I have so much to worry about."

We all have our troubles and worry, of course, makes matters worse. The patient generally recognizes this fact without being able to profit by it.

The doctor who could meet this nervous condition and cure it would be the most popular medical man alive. But he cannot do it because the form of nervous exhaustion known as neurasthenia, of which worry is a characteristic symptom, must be cured by the patient himself. That is why you should write today for the book "Diseases of the Nervous System" and read the chapter on "Neurasthenia." So many people have read it and written back, "This hits my case exactly. I am giving the treatment a trial and being benefited," that the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., has had a lot of these books printed and will send you a copy free on request.

world is thus engaged, while we are preserving our peaceful relations.

Friend of Belligerents

"The United States is today the friend of each of the belligerent nations. Our debts are growing the crops that are to feed the multitudes whose hands have been withdrawn from the plow to be given to the sword. Our workshops and factories are making the implements of rehabilitation which will make life possible again in Europe when this great scourge is passed.

"We have preserved the peace with justice, and have saved to ourselves an opportunity far larger than any participation in this struggle could have given. We want no territory, we seek no advantage, we desire but an opportunity to help restore the balance with friendship and prosperity and opportunity for the people of the old world.

After reviewing the developments of Mexican unrest, which he pointed out, began to manifest itself long before Woodrow Wilson became president, Mr. Baker continued:

Could Not Recognize Huerta

"President Taft declined to recognize the dissolute monster (Huerta.) Secretary of State Knox withheld the approval of the United States from that sort of treachery. President Wilson withheld recognition from Huerta, and the long and troubled course of our dealing with Mexico has been, in part at least, because both President Taft and President Wilson believed that a nation-loving justice, as I hope we have it, could not extend its favor to this medieval despot, cast with all of his villainies upon his head as afloat on the waters of a revolution otherwise hopeful and pure as to its object."

Mr. Baker expressed the hope that the American soldiers on the Texas border may not be required to fire another shot, but that their ultimate victory and the restoration of peace and contentment and prosperity in northern Mexico may come as the climax to a series of bloodless victories."

THE MIGRATORY BIRDS

NEW REGULATIONS FOR CLOSED SEASONS ON MIGRATORY WATER FOWL AND BIRDS

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—The members of the advisory committee to the department of agriculture on the migratory bird law, in view of the fact that new regulations setting forth closed seasons on migratory water fowl and birds were today made public, issued a statement as follows:

To the People of the United States: The advisory committee, appointed by the secretary of agriculture, Hon. D. F. Houston, to co-operate with the bureau of biological survey in fixing the regulations for closed seasons on migratory birds, as authorized by the federal migratory bird law, desires to state to the people of the United States that after the most exhaustive investigation, and the most careful consideration of every point, the regulations as promulgated were unanimously recommended by the members of this committee. We realize the utter impossibility of even attempting to satisfy all that desire to shoot migratory birds.

In recommending the regulations we were controlled by the following considerations:

First—A most earnest desire to save from certain depletion and threatened annihilation the valuable waterfowl, game and insectivorous birds which migrate across the United States twice each year.

Second—To accord the hunters in the various states as nearly as possible an equal opportunity of taking migratory waterfowl and nomadic game birds.

Third—To open the seasons during which these birds can be legally killed in those months when under normal weather and food conditions the largest number of migratory waterfowl and birds sojourn in any particular state.

Fourth—To absolutely eliminate spring shooting, when migratory waterfowl and birds are on the northward migration and journeying towards their breeding grounds, thus impelled by the irresistible force of nature, to mate, nest and reproduce their species.

Fifth—To recognize unusual and extraordinary conditions existing in a few of the states, without affecting the equality or vested rights of the people of the whole country in the migratory wild life.

Sixth—To submit reasonable, practical, fair and just regulations that should invite the support of all true conservationists.

Seventh—To guarantee not only to the present generation a reasonable supply of migratory wild life, but to so protect it that it will multiply and be handed to future generations as their proper and rightful heritage.

The imperative necessity for the enactment of the federal migratory bird law is palpable to every thoughtful and discerning mind. Migratory wild life does not even recognize national, to say nothing of state, lines. The variability of the statutes of the states protecting these migrants, the lack of uniformity in these laws, the rapacity with which the nomadic birds are slaughtered by voracious annihilators of wild life in many of the states, the detriment to the people of the large, completed the conclusion of congress that the exigencies of the situation demanded federal regulations that would, in reality, save the migratory waterfowl and birds from extermination.

The people of no country have been so abundantly blessed with valuable natural resources as ours. The American people are notorious for the fact that their natural resources are fast disappearing have been induced to extend even a modicum of conservation to these fast-vanishing assets.

Conservation does not mean preventing the use of our natural resources as a miser would hoard his gold, but means the wise and careful use of our national heritage, taking therefrom only a sufficient quantity to supply our needs, with the full realization that we are trustees for future generations.

We are convinced that under the operation of this law shooting will improve each year. The need of the hour has heretofore appeared to be unperpetrated in the minds of the people. They have drawn recklessly on their natural inheritance with scarcely a thought of the future. It is a notable fact that in our capacity for slaughter many of the most valuable species of game and birds that formerly abounded in this country have been annihilated.

The wild or passenger pigeon that formerly swarmed over Eastern North America in countless millions has become extinct. The American bison, found on the great plains of the west, was slaughtered by hide-hunters to the point of extermination. The Great Auk, the Eskimo curlew, the Labrador duck, the Carolina parakeet have been exterminated. There are many other valuable North American birds that are candidates for extinction, including the whooping crane, trumpeter swan, American flamingo, roseate spoonbill, scarlet tibia, long-billed curlew, upland plover, Hudsonian godwit, red-breasted sandpiper, golden plover, dowitcher, willet, peewee sandpiper, black-capped petrel, American egret, snowy egret, wood duck, hand-tailed pigeon, heath hen, sage grouse, white-tailed kite, prairie sharpshooter, pinnated grouse and woodcock.

Future generations can only be judged by those that have gone before, hence the enactment and the enforcement of a comprehensive system of federal conservation of migratory wild life was made necessary if this valuable asset was to be retained among the resources of the United States. Aside from aesthetic consideration, birds and game constitute a valuable article of food. From a recreational standpoint, this resource is of the greatest value to our people.

We feel that the failure of any American citizen to accord the federal migratory bird law his most active support is due either to lack of information or selfishness.

We therefore urge and request all patriotic citizens to exert their influence to the utmost to the end that the incalculable benefits contemplated by this law, and most specifically accruing to the people under the regulations just promulgated, be given their moral support, that the enlightened conscience of the people may be quickened to a full observance and vigilant enforcement of this wise and progressive conservation measure.

OPENING OF THE SCHOOLS

Children Safer in School Than on the Streets Under Careful Medical Inspection

Special to The Sun
STATE HOUSE, Boston, Aug. 25.—Officials of the state department of health and of the state board of education agree that the school committees in each city and town is the final authority as to the date on which the public schools shall open; neither department has any authority in the matter, nor is either one likely to make any suggestion to the local authorities.

The health department officials are also of the opinion that each local board of health has only secondary powers in the matter; that is to say, they believe that a local board of health has no authority to say that the schools shall not open before a specified date, but if, after the schools are opened, the local board of health finds that an epidemic of any contagious disease exists within its jurisdiction and is of the opinion that conditions warrant such action, it may order the schools closed for such period of time as it sees fit.

State department of health officials, however, consider it extremely unlikely that local boards of health will take such action, however, except possibly in some of the smaller places. As a matter of fact, health authorities everywhere are of the opinion that children are safer in the public schools than they would be running about the streets, particularly if health inspection is provided in the schools.

Dr. Lyman A. Jones of North Adams, the newly appointed director of the division of hygiene, discussing the matter today, said:

"This department has no authority to postpone the opening of the public schools, and would not exercise such authority if it could, except possibly in some of the smaller communities where the children live at considerable distances from school and from each other.

"We are of the opinion that the danger of contagion will be very slight in schools where there is adequate medical inspection, but this should include an examination of each pupil on the opening day of school, a daily visit of the physician to each school room, and following up by the physician of each child who remains away from school.

"With such inspection, we believe cases will be detected much more speedily in the school rooms than would be the case at home, for it has been our experience that children have suffered with the disease sometimes for 30 or 40 hours before the parents suspected its nature and called a physician, and of course in the vast majority of cases of this sort the child is then beyond help.

"The school physicians and teachers, however, will readily detect the first symptoms, and their watchfulness, we are confident, will materially help in lessening the death rate from the disease.

When there is the further consideration that children running unrestrained about the streets, especially in the larger cities, are much more likely to come in contact with the disease than they would be in the school room. So we confidently expect that the opening of the schools, in conjunction with the cooler September weather, will bring a speedy end to the malady in this state."

DRACUT'S TAX RATE

WE THOUGHT WE HAD SOME TAX RATE, BUT DRACUT'S $23.00 PADES US

A big surprise, and not a very pleasant one, was sprung in Dracut yesterday afternoon when the assessors announced that the tax rate had jumped $3.40 per thousand, making the tax rate for 1916 $23.00 per thousand.

The tax rate for 1915 was $19.60 per thousand and a drop of at least $1 per thousand had been expected.

The total commitment last year was $54,673.76, against a levy of $55,450.93 the present year.

The valuation increased $1,453. In 1915 the valuation was $2,570,720, while this year it jumped to $2,562,173.

The assessed polls now number 1035, against 987 the previous year.

The total appropriations for the year jumped from $56,000 to almost $70,000. The increase in dwelling houses stood at 63, while there were four horses less and about 100 more cows.

The tax rate in the water district will likely be set at $2. This shows a decrease of $2.70, as the rate last year was $4.70 per $1000. The drop is caused by the appropriation being kept at a minimum and a reduction in the operation of the district work.

NINTH ON BORDER DUTY

Regiment to Remain on Patrol Five Days Longer Than Planned --Bay State Men in Demand

EL PASO, Tex., Aug. 25.—Two regular army generals appear likely to engage in a friendly struggle to secure the Bay State infantry brigade here as a part of their divisions.

The officers in question are General Bell and General Charles G. Morton, each of whom is to command one of the four divisions which are scheduled to be located in this military district.

General Morton, who was formerly the United States army inspector-instructor of Massachusetts and who is personally acquainted with most of the Bay State officers, is anxious to put the Massachusetts brigade in his division, and it is stated here that he has asked that they be assigned.

It is known that General Bell does not want to lose the Bay State brigade, which has been under him since its arrival on the border and which has made a very strong impression on the general. The Bay State men have been given every opportunity by General Bell to get much needed experience. The latter has stood squarely behind the Massachusetts men on various questions that have arisen and has taken a very deep interest in their welfare.

Yesterday it was announced here that the Ninth regiment will be on border patrol five days longer than was at first planned and that much longer than the men of the Fifth and the Eighth did this duty, due to the fact that the Michigan regiment, which is to relieve the Ninth, is to be inspected by federal officers within the next few days, as are all of the militia troops in Camp Cotton.

Three Ninth regiment men had a narrow escape from serious, if not fatal, injury here yesterday morning when a big trolley car, said to be going at high speed, crashed into one of the Ninth regiment's four-mule teams, all three men were badly shaken up and bruised. Two of the mules were fatally injured, while both wagon and car were considerably damaged.

Emmetts Give Show

Brigadier-General Charles Cahill, Colonel Logan of the Ninth, Major Smith of the Thirty-fourth regulars, Chaplain M. J. O'Connor of the Ninth and several other officers left here yesterday for Las Cruces. They inspected the companies in this town and in Camutillo, N. M., and were present at the minstrel show.

Battery A of the Bay State artillery regiment returned to Camp Pershing yesterday from Ysleta and Battery F left for that town. The headquarters company also left camp on a 30-hour bike.

Officers have reached here for the inspectors of small arms practice, who were legislated out of the service by the new army bill, to remain here with the Bay State troops. Captain Harold J. Patten, who was the inspector for the Eighth regiment, has already returned home. The other inspectors of the Fifth and Joseph Lawless of the Ninth and Lieutenant Stewart Wise of the cavalry, are still here.

LIFE BOAT EQUIPPED

EMERGENCY CRAFT WILL BE KEPT AT POLICE STATION—HAS WATERSCOPE AND LUNG MOTOR

The boat recently purchased by the city of Lowell at the suggestion of the waterways commission, is now completely equipped with all kinds of apparatus useful in recovering a body and is already to be hoisted on the set of wheels that is expected to arrive here immediately. The equipment was also procured with the waterways commission appropriation.

The boat is a slick looking one similar to those used by the Metropolitan park police and will accommodate six persons. It is marked, as is all the other equipment, with the words "City of Lowell." As soon as the wheels arrive the boat will be placed in the stable in the rear of the police station where it will be at the disposal of the public at all times. In the event of a drowning accident the police station will be notified. The wheels to which the boat is attached will be tied to the rear of an automobile or wagon and the entire combination will be rushed to the scene of action.

Supt. Welch is heartily in accord with the plan of the waterways commission and he will make some arrangement to have policemen accompany the boat.

The entire equipment is the best and most modern that could be obtained. It includes eight grappling hooks, six 14 feet long and two 20 feet, four grappling irons with ropes, 150 feet of rope, anchor, extra oars and oarlocks, rubber blankets and an adjustable "waterscope." The "waterscope" which is of the same idea as a telescope, will be attached to the rear of the boat and will extend down into the water. It is adjustable and a person is supposed to be able to see bottom clearly in from six to 25 feet of water. A light is attached to the instrument whereby the bottom can be more plainly seen in muddy water. The person operating the "scope" will kneel on a seat in the rear of the boat and look through one end. Two ropes will enable him to raise or lower it and also to move it around so that he can see over about six feet at one time. Batteries to furnish the light will be carried in a small box located in the boat.

Along with the apparatus described above a "lung motor" has been purchased and is expected to arrive here daily. This is said to be more valuable than the pump motor in use at the present time and will be used for the same person. This also will be kept at the police station.

TEACH CHILDREN TO SWIM

The numerous drownings in and around Lowell convey a forcible message to our city officials, a message that has been heard ringing in the public ear for many many years and which is still unheeded. It is the message that to protect the lives of our children so far as may be against drowning, the city should provide the means for all school children to learn to swim. Indeed the ability to swim should be made a condition of graduation at the grammar schools. The boys and the girls as well, should be taught to swim before they reach the graduating age.

The expense would be the chief objection; but even though it might be considerable it would be money well spent. "This is not education of the right sort," we may be told. Perhaps not; but it is the kind of education that will save many lives which is more than can be said of a smattering of grammar or geography. The protection of life comes before education and taking this view, the school board should make arrangements to have all the children of our city taught to swim.

During the summer vacation, this could be done in an open air swimming pool; and if we are to have a new and up-to-date high school, it should have a gymnasium and swimming pool combined. The public at large would endorse a movement to safeguard the lives of our children against a danger which strikes our city more severely than cities less abundantly supplied with waterways. To accommodate the school children as conveniently as possible, a swimming tank should be centrally located, so that the children from the grades of the various grammar schools would have equal opportunity in taking swimming lessons.

The planning board which has apparently been enjoying a long vacation, might devise a practical plan for this purpose to be submitted for adoption by the school board.

THE DEMOCRATIC RECORD

No administration perhaps since the days of President Lincoln can show a record of constructive legislation superior to that of the present democratic regime. The measures enacted are so important and so numerous that it is difficult to give an adequate idea of them. The federal reserve act which makes panics impossible and which has relieved the country from the domination of Wall street, is one of the most important measures enacted by congress since the Civil War. The rural credits act, which affords the farmers of the country ready facilities for securing credit, is another measure that will be of vast benefit to those engaged in agriculture throughout the land.

The parcel post law is another measure the benefits of which would be difficult to estimate. It has entirely broken down the express trusts that were extorting exorbitant charges and has offered new facilities for transmission of parcels throughout the country. It is of great benefit to all classes of people.

Chairman McCormick of the democratic national committee, addressing himself to the progressives, enumerated the chief democratic reforms enacted under the present administration as follows:

1. The rural credits act, which permits the farmer the same access to credit facilities that is enjoyed by the other elements of our citizenship.
2. The income tax law.
3. The federal reserve act, which measures up to the progressive requirement for "the issue of currency as a governmental function under a system whose control should be lodged with the government and should be protected from domination or manipulation by Wall street or by any special interest."

4. The good roads law, which extends federal aid to road building.
5. The trade commission law, which fully satisfied the progressive demand for "a strong federal administrative commission of high standing that shall maintain permanent, active supervision over industrial corporations engaged in interstate commerce."
6. An eight-hour law applying to work done for the government as well as work done by the government.
7. An eight-hour law applying to female employees in the District of Columbia, over which congress has jurisdiction.

8. An eight-hour provision for postoffice clerks and carriers.
9. An eight-hour provision applicable to civilians engaged in the manufacture of ordnance and powder for the government.

10. An eight-hour provision as to the mining of all coal to be used by the navy.
11. The children's bureau law to promote the welfare of children and to devise means for the prevention of the necessities of parents retarding development of the child.

12. The industrial commission law to investigate the entire subject of industrial relations.
13. The phagocytosis law to protect the health of workers in the match industry.
14. The Clayton anti-trust act, embracing the regulations of the issuance of injunctions.

15. The department of labor law, creating a department with a secretary, who shall be a member of the president's cabinet.
16. The Smith-Lever agricultural education law, which responds to the progressive demand that measures be taken to lift the lot of the farmer from American youth by "encouraging agricultural education and domestic schools."

17. The corrupt elections practices act.
18. Measures abolishing the commerce court and authorizing the interstate commerce commission to make a physical valuation of railroads.

19. The Sherwood pension bill, which must meet the progressive idea of a "wise and just policy of pensioning American soldiers and sailors and their widows and children."
20. The parcels post law.

In addition, the shipping bill and the various measures for preparedness may be mentioned.

With such a record of achievement in necessary and far reaching reforms, the republicans are up against a difficult proposition in this campaign. As a result they are continuing their attacks mainly to the executive policy of the president and his diplomacy in dealing with other countries. In these matters, he has attained eminent success although the difficulties encountered were the greatest that came to any president since the days of Lincoln.

HUGHES OPPOSED INCOME TAX

Candidate Hughes is not saying much about the income tax amendment to the constitution. That amendment was adopted in 1913 and was the result of democratic initiative in the face of strong republican opposition. It was brought about through the evident necessity for the power to tax incomes and thus compel the wealthy to pay a fair share of the government revenue rather than take too great a proportion of it out of the pockets of the masses.

In 1894, the democratic congress passed a revenue law providing for a flat rate of two per cent. on all incomes over $4000. This law was declared unconstitutional by a decision of the supreme court of the United States, voting five to four. In 1895, the democratic platform favored an income tax and the same stand was taken in 1900. The platform of 1908 demanded an amendment to the constitution authorizing an income tax. The republicans in their platform firmly opposed the amendment as unnecessary. The democrats in congress added an income tax provision to the Aldrich tariff bill and through progressive support secured its adoption. The republicans, it appears, did not expect that the amendment would be ratified and Candidate Hughes, then governor of New York, sent a message to the legislature protesting against the ratification; but in spite of his protest, the amendment was ratified in New York as in other states. Thus an important measure for the relief of the masses from excessive taxation was enacted through democratic activity in the face of republican opposition. No governor at the time opposed the measure more vigorously than did Candidate Hughes.

GUS GARDNER'S TIRADE

Congressman Gardner will drop his favorite stunt of assailing the army and navy for their alleged unpreparedness; and from now until after election he will assail President Wilson for not making war on some other power.

There was a time during the interchange of notes with Germany when the president would have severed relations with that power, had she not yielded to the demands that the rules of civilized warfare be observed, and that the barbarous submarine policy of sinking merchant vessels on sight be abandoned. Had Germany taken a different course and had diplomatic relations been cut off, Gardner and Hughes and Roosevelt today would be out denouncing Wilson for his harsh action. At one time before the opening of the campaign, the republicans were considering whether it would be more popular to assail Wilson's policy as "spineless" or to criticize it as going to extremes against Germany while failing to call other powers to account for equal infractions of international law. Being the war party or rather what bears its name, the leaders finally decided to assail Wilson's policy towards European powers and Mexico as weak, and hence Gardner and all the other spellbinders of the republican party must disperse hot air on that subject in the absence of any real issue.

For this reason, Gus Gardner comes out "real loud" charging Wilson with keeping the nation at peace; but at the expense of the "nation's glory." This for campaign purposes is all that could be expected from Gardner. If he believes what he says, he must think that American citizens are chafing to plunge into the European war. But he does not believe anything of the kind; and he knows that his attack on these lines is merely campaign buncombe.

The despatches say "Two British warships were sunk, with only 33 lives lost." So large have been the death tolls in this European slaughter, that anything less than a few hundred lives looks small.

The republicans in congress have undertaken to force the immigration

The finish is what tells the story.

Success depends at least upon some routine.

What a quiet time 'twill be after all this life is over!

Matrimony is all right until either one or the other gets to be a watchdog.

Society is much to blame itself for some of the men and women who go wrong.

They are now plowing, cultivating and harvesting at night on some of the big farms out west. That isn't because the farmers' day isn't long enough already, but because it is much cooler to work by the light of great coals than under the boiling sun—the reverse of daylight saving.

Where'd She Get the Egg?

It is unusual for a hen to hatch out a woodpecker, but an instance is reported by Ira Cordrey, a farmer living near Federalburg, Md. The hen had been missing for some time. When found she was mothering 11 baby chicks and one tiny woodpecker, which appeared perfectly happy to let the hen scratch worms for it, and the hen is paying just as much attention to the little woodpecker as it is to her brood of chicks. The woodpecker's appearance is explained on the supposition that a woodpecker laid an egg in the hen's nest while the hen was off looking for food.

'Too Looking For His Falth

"The late Bishop Hare," said a Sioux Falls physician, "used very occasionally to impute scepticism to misunderstanding."

"He once told me about a Philadelphia business man of sceptical tendencies, who said to him:

"My dear Mr. Hare, I do not refuse to believe in the story of the ark. I can accept the ark's enormous size, its odd shape and the vast number of animals it contained, but when I am asked, my dear doctor, to believe that the children of Israel carried this unwieldy thing for 40 years in the wilderness—well, there, I'm bound to say, my faith breaks down."

Follow Our Example

An esteemed correspondent writes The News in approval of the sentiments expressed the other day relative to a cleaner and a better Salem. It is given prominence today because the subject is one of importance to this community as to every other community. Lowell has entered upon a similar campaign. The mayor has directed the police to impress upon householders and lodgers the necessity of exercising care and judgment in the matter of disposing of refuse, garbage, etc. The Lowell Sun well remarks that "just now with the fear of influenza paralyzing stalks over the land, to say nothing of the other diseases which late summer brings along, it behooves us all to keep our streets and premises free from every sort of thing that may aid in the spread of disease."

Why might we not in Salem have the police look after the cleanliness of our streets and yards? Under the direction of the public safety department and the guidance of the health department they can do wonders, if they will, without any serious strain on themselves in the way of extra labor. Kindly advice, even though not always pleasantly received, will accomplish much and perhaps save a life or two. Mayor O'Donnell's plan is well worth the effort here.—The Salem News.

The House by the Side of the Road
There are hermit souls that live withdrawn
In the peace of their self-content:
There are souls, like stars, that dwell apart
In a fellowship firmament:
There are pioneer souls that blaze their paths
Where highways never ran:
But let me live by the side of the road,
And be a friend to man.

Let me live in a house by the side of the road,
Where the race of men go by—
The men who are good and the men who are bad,
As good and as bad as I.
I would not sit in the corner's seat,
Or hurl the cynic's ban:
Let me live in a house by the side of the road,
And be a friend to man.

I see from my house by the side of the road,
By the side of the highway of life,
The men who press with the ardor of hope,
The men who are faint with the strife:
But I turn not away from their smiles nor their tears—
Both parts of an infinite plan—
Let me live in my house by the side of the road,
And be a friend to man.

I know there are brook-gladdened meadows ahead,
And mountains of wearisome height:
That the road passes on through the long afternoon,
And stretches away to the night.
But still I rejoice when the travelers rejoice,
And weep with the strangers that moan.
Nor live in my house by the side of the road,
Like a man who dwells alone.

Let me live in a house by the side of the road,
Where the race of men go by—
They are good, they are bad, they are weak, they are strong,
Wise, foolish—so am I.
Then why should I sit in the corner's seat,
Or hurl the cynic's ban?
Let me live in my house by the side of the road,
And be a friend to man.

LAWRENCE TAX RATE

NO CHANGE IN RATE FOR 1914—THE 1913 RATE OF $18.50 STILL STANDS

LAWRENCE, Aug. 25.—The tax rate for 1913 will be $18.50 as predicted.

formal announcement being made by the board of assessors today. The rate is the same as last year.

According to the figures submitted to the mayor by Mr. Murphy the valuation of all kinds of property about the city has increased $249,750 this year despite the fact that the organization of the American Woolen Co. which took place the first of the year, meant a loss to the city of many thousands of dollars.

The loss in the poll tax assessment amounted to only $80.

BIG SOCIETY FUNCTION HOT SUN KILLED HIM

BALL TO ASSIST PARALYSIS FIGHT WITH 850 TICKETS AT MAGNOLIA

One of the largest social affairs of the season will be a ball at the Oceanic hotel, Magnolia, on Friday, Sept. 1, under the auspices of the Massachusetts branch of the Woman's American Supply league. The money will be expended in aid of the combat against infantile paralysis.

It is expected that not less than 1000 couples will be present. The tickets, which sell at $3, with boxes at $50, can be procured at the hotels in Boston or along the north shore or from members of the committee.

Extremely active in the work is Mrs. John Hays Hammond, who is president of the national association. The honorary chairman for the ball is Mrs. Samuel W. McCall, the executive chairman is Mrs. John Blodgett of Prides Crossing. Among the many other society women composing the committee are Mrs. R. D. Evans, Miss Helen Frick of Prides Crossing, Miss Abbie Hunt and Miss Belle Hunt of Beverly, and Miss M. E. Hammond of Gloucester.

Gov. McCall will be present, escorted by the Lancers. An attractive event of the evening will be a number by an artist loaned by B. F. Keith.

The Woman's American Supply league, which describes itself as "A Militia of Mercy," is an organization which was formed only last month, but which promises to become nation wide, including women from all classes.

Its object, as explained in the constitution, is to supply necessities to the men at the front and in mobilization camps; to furnish needed assistance to families of soldiers in the way of work or relief; to furnish hospital supplies to the Red Cross and other war relief agencies; and to create and develop in the United States for all time a militia of patriotic women, trained and prepared for such service as women can render toward national needs.

Mrs. Hammond, who organized and is the prime mover of the organization, is also first vice president of the National Council of Women, which numbers over 7,000,000 women. She feels sure that very many of them will join the new body.

PLAYED IN EVERY CITY OF THE U. S.
Famous Everett Musician Now Is Singing the Praises of Plant Juice.

A true formula should have three essentials: First, it should give quick relief; second, it should destroy germs of disease; and, third, it should build up new tissue. The first is to inspire the necessary confidence that the sufferer must have in the remedy; second, is to completely eliminate the cause of the diseased condition; and, third, is to build up new tissue to give Nature a chance to invigorate every organ in the body.

That this is what Plant Juice, the new herbal stomach remedy, is doing is being demonstrated every day by the numerous testimonials received from every city where it has been introduced. Since Plant Juice has been introduced in Boston scores of local people have testified to benefits received.

Recently the signed statement of Mr. F. S. Holbrook of No. 67 Linden St., Everett, one of the best known exchangers of music in this city, having lived here since 1873, and who has played in every large city in the United States and Canada was received. He said as follows:

"For ten years or more I have suffered with indigestion in its worst form and had been unable to find a medicine that would give lasting results. At last I decided to try Plant Juice and have steadily improved in health since taking it. My stomach was all filled with gas, which caused nervousness, I could not sleep and had to lie on my back for months. As I could digest nothing else. Now I can eat anything I want, am not nervous, sleep well and have steadily gained in weight and consider myself entirely cured. I cannot recommend Plant Juice too highly."

The Plant Juice man is at Dow's, the druggists, in Merrimack square, where he is daily meeting the Lowell public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.

PATRICK MAHONEY WAS OVERCOME AT CANOE LAKE PARK, WHERE HE WORKED

Patrick Mahoney of Salem Depot, who was stricken with a sunstroke at Canoe Lake park three weeks ago, died Wednesday afternoon at the Barr sanitarium in Methuen where he was taken for treatment. Mr. Mahoney was a man of middle age and made his home on Maple place. He had been employed about the Canoe Lake park ever since it opened some years ago and was well known to many people who frequented the place.

Three weeks ago he was overcome by the heat while at his work and removed to his home and later taken to the Methuen sanitarium, where he died. He leaves a wife, two daughters, Louise and Rita and one brother, George A. Mahoney of Lynn. His funeral took place this afternoon. Burial was in the family lot in Wintham, N. H., cemetery.

agent of the board of health to keep their garbage pails covered, and the tenants abutting the avenue have been asked to refrain from throwing papers in the alley. The mayor said all he saw in the avenue was some waste paper near the corner of Paige street and two or three uncovered barrels filled with paper boxes, not garbage. There were three uncovered barrels of garbage in the avenue, but they had just been taken out for the board of health employees to remove this morning. Incidentally the mayor said that the employees of the health department remove the garbage from Pollard avenue four times a week, Mondays, Tuesdays, Fridays and Saturdays and his honor still maintains that the condition of Pollard avenue is not as bad as represented by certain parties.

Perry's court off Middlesex street, which is not a property, was today thoroughly cleaned by health employees and the owners of the yard and their attention called to the matter of keeping their premises in a good clean condition. The owners of property abutting Pollard avenue have been asked to co-operate with the health department in keeping the alley in a clean condition.

Police Superintendent Inspects
Supt. Welch of the police department reported to the mayor and Agent Bales this morning that he has personally investigated the condition in Pollard avenue and found nothing to be criticised in the line of disease breeding. The superintendent informed his honor that he went to the avenue yesterday morning and again this morning and he found conditions very normal with the exception of a pool of surface water caused by the rain and the only remedy being to have the paving of the avenue, which would have to be done at the expense of the property owners.

Corporations Beware
The attention is being called of the various local corporations which employ minors, who have to secure educational certificates to the following state law, which has reference to school certificates: "This certificate must be returned by the employer to the office of the superintendent of schools from which it is issued, within two days after employment by him of the person named hereon terminates. Penalty for non-compliance not less than ten nor more than one hundred dollars."

One of the attendance officers in conversation with the writer this morning stated that certain corporations of the city pay no attention to this law and in many instances fail to return the certificates as ordered and this has been called to the attention of Edward Grant, state inspector of the board of labor and industries. The latter came to this city a few days ago and stated it will be his duty to bring some of the corporations into court if they do not obey the law.

Park Department
The superintendent of the park department is in receipt of a letter from a man named George E. Hooper of Silver lake, who offers for sale to the park department, a "handsome" monkey. The owner of the beast says the animal is tame and will not run away and would mean a lot for the children who frequent Fort Hill park. Another party from North Reading offers for sale a pair of gray fox, which he will dispose of for the sum of $40.

The Lowell Electric Light corp. has agreed to place 16 temporary arc lights on the South common for the municipal dance to be held on the evening of Aug. 31. It has been decided by the committee in charge of the event to wire off one acre of the land, cut the grass extra short and sweep the dust away, and 150 Boy Scouts under the personal supervision of Scout Master Alex. E. Williams will do patrol duty on the evening of the dance.

Will Hold Hearings
Hearings on the following petitions will be held before Commissioner Morse at city hall, on the evening of Aug. 28:

By William H. Burgess and Howard W. Lang, that a sewer be laid in King street from the Jackson street sewer casterly 149 feet.

By Percy E. Varnum, that the sewer in Eleventh street be extended easterly about 180 feet.

By James J. Norton, that a concrete sidewalk be laid opposite the properties numbered 273-75-77 and 79 Chestnut street.

By Otto Hockmeyer, that edgestones be laid in Holyrood avenue.

By the Lowell Bleachery and others, that Bleachery street be accepted.

WOMEN AT TILLERS OF RACING YACHTS SHOW SPLENDID SKILL

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Members of the Atlantic Yacht club have been exceptionally fortunate in having perfect weather conditions for their race week. There has been just enough of a southerly breeze to tempt the ladies to try their hands at sailing the small yachts, the only trouble being a shortage in the number of craft for the would be sailors. However, twenty-three yachts were mustered for the opening regatta, one of the conditions of which was "ladies only permitted at the tiller from the time of preparatory signal to conclusion of race." The course lay from the Atlantic clubhouse dock across the bay to Bensonhurst, thence east along shore to Port Hamilton and then back to the clubhouse dock, a distance of 7.3 nautical miles when sailed twice around, the movements of the yacht being visible over the whole course. Joy, which is the crack yacht of the Gravesend bay fleet and owned by Commodore Le Sauvage of the Bensonhurst Yacht club, sailed on the opening day by Mrs. W. T. Davis, was the first of the fleet to start shortly after the regatta committee—John R. Brophy, Samuel L. Finlay and Dr. Charles L. Atkinson—set the signal and was also the first to finish, making the course in 1.50.1, thus winning the first of the trophies for the lady skippers. Her only competitor was the Saginaw, sailed by Miss M. De Plesso, which was beaten by twenty-five minutes in actual time and 15 minutes with her handicap allowance deducted. Interest in the opening day's sport centered in the star class, with a dozen starters. The lot got across the line in a compact bunch with Canis Minor, sailed by Mrs. C. L. Bonner in the lead and Altair, with Mrs. E. V. Willis at the tiller, just astern, but in the weather position. Baushee, sailed by Mrs. Sohst, and Shadow, with Mrs. W. L. Inslee acting as skipper, were next. The Altair had things her own way and finished 2 minutes and 14 seconds in front of Shadow. The pair of Bay-side birds—Curlew, sailed by Miss Lucy Willard, and Oriole, sailed by Mrs. C. L. Atkinson—finished just astern of Altair and in front of Shadow. Miss Villard won the trophy for the third class with Curlew, the other winners being Mrs. H. G. Plann with Xena and Miss E. N. Hoffman in the third division of the handicap class with Spider. Layout shows some of the scenes of the regatta. No. 1, Mrs. Davis winning; No. 2, Miss De Plesso; No. 3, start of the big race.

DARING ROBBERY

Ames Home at Marshfield Entered — $1800 in Jewelry Taken

MARSHFIELD, Aug. 25.—One of the most daring daylight robberies ever known along the south shore took place at Marshfield, when thieves entered the home of Edward E. Ames on South River road, and, after ransacking the house, made their escape with $100 in cash and about $1800 worth of jewelry.

Mr. Ames, one of Marshfield's most prominent residents, was attending the fair with his family, and the house, which is in a rather secluded spot, was temporarily vacated. When the family returned they discovered that nearly every one of the plate glass windows in the house had been broken. A glance at the interior showed that it had been thoroughly ransacked. The house probably contained more valuables, including jewelry, silverware and important papers, than any house in this part of the state, and the fact that anything of value was left is probably due to the thieves having become alarmed.

By means of a stove poker and pair of scissors taken from one of the living rooms, the desk containing records of many estates of which Mr. Ames is administrator and other valuable documents was forced. The papers were torn in shreds and thrown at random about the room. An inventory of the valuables in the house escaped the notice of the thieves. Most of the valuables taken were jewelry, including a costly diamond pin, the property of Mr. Ames' brother, Lyman Ames, of Ohio, a guest, which was taken from the bottom of a trunk. About $6000 worth of jewelry was not discovered by the thieves. Checks of all denominations were torn in two and thrown about the place. The robbers evidently were not tempted by liquor, for a decanter on the table was not disturbed and a well stocked wine closet in the cellar was not entered. The robbers visited nearly every part of the house.

VERMONT TO PAY TROOPS

RELIEF AND VOTING BILLS PASSED IN DAY'S SESSION—$35 MONTHLY FAMILY LIMIT

MONTEPELIER, Vt., Aug. 25.—It took the Vermont legislature less than a day to provide for Vermont soldiers who were called to the colors by the Mexican border crisis and to make provision for their dependent families. Bills were passed yesterday by the special session, which convened yesterday morning, and were signed by Gov. Gates last night. The senate passed a bill providing means for the soldiers to vote in the coming primaries and state election. The house is expected to pass this bill and the governor to sign it in time for adjournment today.

Dependent mothers and fathers, wives and children not over 15 years of age, may secure financial relief from the state to the amount not exceeding $35 monthly to a family, according to one measure signed by the governor. Where a wife only is in need of aid she may receive $20 a month. Another bill provides state pay of

$10 a month for the enlisted men in addition to their federal pay of approximately $15 a month. There was a difference of opinion on the question of mileage for the soldiers. The house passed a bill providing for a rate of 20 cents a mile one way, but the senate amended this to read 10 cents a mile one way. The bill in its amended form will be taken up by the house today.

The bill passed by the senate, which is intended to give the soldiers a chance to vote, provides for the usual method of balloting under the direction of regimental and company officers. Except on the matter of mileage the bills proposed went through without any opposition. Gov. Gates sent a message in which he pointed out the propriety of the appropriations asked for and praised the efficiency and patriotism of the troops, quoting dispatches from the border commenting on the work of the men.

CAUGHT AFTER CHASE

ICEMAN ACCUSED OF ATTEMPTING TO ATTACK GIRL, HELD GANG AT BAY WITH GLASS REVOLVER

BOSTON, Aug. 25.—After holding a score of men at bay by brandishing a glass revolver and an ice pick, John S. Higgins, 27, of 107 Chandler street, South End, was arrested yesterday afternoon on a street car on Hyde Park avenue, near Patten street, West Roxbury, by Patrolman William H. Gordon of station 17.

Higgins' arrest followed a chase of more than a mile, in which he was pursued by a gang of laborers, who had been attracted by the screams of a girl in Calvary cemetery, near the Milton line.

It is alleged that Higgins, who is an ice man, attempted to attack 13-year old Mary M. Starlinsky of Ashland st. West Roxbury, who was picking flowers in the cemetery.

Her screams attracted the attention of a gang of laborers who were working nearby.

They gave chase, and were about to close in on the man when he wheeled and pointed the "revolver" at them. They discreetly withdrew, and Higgins boarded the car when it approached.

$10,000,000 FOR ROADS

$1,000,000 ALLOTTED FOR NATIONAL FOREST ROADS THIS YEAR UNDER FEDERAL ROAD ACT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Secretary Houston has just announced the plan to be pursued in spending the ten million dollars appropriated by the federal aid road act for the construction and maintenance of roads and trails within or partly within national forests, and has tentatively allotted among the various national forest states the million dollars which is expendable this fiscal year.

The tentative allotments to the principal national forest states are as follows: Alaska, $16,380; Arizona, $53,793; Arkansas, $11,224; California, $140,162; Colorado, $62,833; Idaho, $108,010; Montana, $69,901; Nevada, $19,195; New Mexico, $42,622; Oregon, $127,791; South Dakota, $8118; Utah, $40,562; Washington, $91,730; Wyoming, $10,568. In addition, a total of $952 has been tentatively assigned to Flor-

Washington Savings Institution

Verification of Pass Books

Complying with the statute requiring the Savings Banks in Massachusetts to request depositors to present their books for verification during the year 1916, this bank requests its depositors to present their books at any time during banking hours in the months of July and August.

THOMAS H. MURPHY, Treasurer.

Ida, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, North Dakota and Oklahoma, while the eastern states—Maine, New Hampshire, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee and Georgia—in which the government is purchasing lands for national forests, have been allotted $21,637.

"In general," said Secretary Houston, "the states and counties will be required to furnish co-operation in an amount at least equal to 50 per cent. of the estimated cost of the surveys and construction. However, upon a satisfactory showing by the applicant state or county that such proportion of co-operation is impracticable, it may be altered and the ratio of co-operation fixed upon a basis equitable to both the state or county and the United States."

The method followed in apportioning the money was explained by Secretary Houston as follows: Ten per cent. of the amount available each year will be withheld as a contingent fund. One-half of the remainder will be allotted to the states, in amounts which will be based on the area of national forest lands in each state. The other half will be apportioned on a basis of estimated value of timber and forage resources which the forests contain. Amounts apportioned but unexpended within three years, and any balance of the contingent fund which remains unapportioned at the end of each year, will be reapportioned on the same basis as the original allotments.

The two groups of states to which lump sums are allotted are, it was explained, to be considered as single units of apportionment. Apportionments now to be made are for the current fiscal year only. Thereafter new apportionments will be made, giving consideration to the number and character of applications made by the state and county officials for expenditures on specific projects. These applications must be filed with the district foresters in the seven national forest districts on or before Jan. 1 of each year, for the fiscal year beginning the following July 1.

The determination of the projects upon which funds will be expended during the current fiscal year will be made on the basis of applications which must be filed with the district foresters on or before Oct. 1, 1916. Each application must contain a statement of the public needs to be served by the proposed road and the manner and extent to which it would aid in the development of resources upon which communities within or adjacent to the national forests are dependent, and must also show the general location of the proposed road and its estimated cost. As already stated, in general states and counties must be prepared to furnish co-operation equal to at least 50 per cent. of the estimated cost of surveys and construction.

This co-operation may be in the form of money, labor and materials, or the construction of roads. Where other factors are equal, the approval of a project may be determined upon the relative amount of co-operation offered. Many applications have, it is stated, already been received for expenditures upon specific projects.

Lowell Team Defeats Hartford
by 6 to 2 Score—More Life Was
'Shown by Players

The Lowell club apparently following the "play it possible" policy in effect in the American league met the Hartford aggregation at Spaulding park yesterday afternoon despite the fact that it was dark and gloomy and the front row spectators were driven under cover by the drizzling rain. At this late date it is not advisable to postpone games if there is any chance of playing them and a few fans were brave enough to turn out. Those present saw their team trounce Hartford to the tune of 6 to 2 in an eight inning game called on account of darkness.

John Bonsack, who has been a victim of hard luck nearly all summer, twirled a good game for Lowell. The eight hits made of him were so well scattered as to hold Hartford to one run, the other one being the result of an error at shortstop. At times Bonsack seemed to be losing control, but he always tightened up and with the help of his teammates kept the visitors far from danger. Opposed to Bonsack was one Jordan, a spit ball artist. It was not Jordan's day and he was hit freely.

Ty Helfrich performed like a regular Ty Cobb, driving out three hits that scored four of the six runs made by the team. Stimpson also continued his fine batting of the past week, contributing a single and a double. Kane, with two fine throws from center, and Lowe at third featured in the field.

First Inning
Keegan, the first man up, cracked the ball to left field for a single but in attempting to reach second he was thrown out. Zimmerman fled to Parker. Brickley singled to left field. Parker made a nice running catch of Lowe's long fly to right.

No runs, two hits, no errors.
Dee fled to Brickley. Kane died at first on a grounder to Jordan. Stimpson singled to left field and went to third on Parker's single in the same place. Helfrich drove a single to right scoring Stimpson and Parker. O'Connell flied to Skiff.

Two runs, three hits, no errors.
Score—Lowell 2, Hartford 0.

Second Inning
Crowther walked. Skiff grounded out. Dee to Torphy. Wilson drew a pass. Pay fanned. Jordan hit to Helfrich, forcing Wilson at second.

No runs, no hits, no errors.
Lowe made a nice stop of Torphy's drive and threw him out at first.

No runs, no hits, no errors.
Kane and Stimpson popped flies to Pay and Lowe respectively. Parker drove a long fly to Keegan at center.

No runs, no hits, no errors.
Score: Lowell 6, Hartford 1.

Third Inning
Lowe fled to Kane. Crowther grounded out. Helfrich to Torphy. Skiff went to second when O'Connell muffed the throw of his grounder. Wilson singled to center, scoring Skiff. Pay hit one which Bonsack could not handle and was safe at first. Jordan fled to Stimpson.

One run, two hits, one error.
At this point the game was called on account of darkness.

Final score: Lowell 6, Hartford 2.

PLAYERS LIKE SHOOTING
FIELD SPORT SAID TO KEEP EYES IN MORE SATISFACTORY CONDITION

The batting averages of the National and American baseball leagues are mighty interesting at this particular time.

Can Cobb repeat? That is a question asked by many fans. Others are greatly concerned in the performance of the 42 year old wonder, Honus Wagner.

At the present time Tris Speaker is still showing the way to Tyus in the American league. The Georgia neophyte doesn't appear to be able to hit his stride of other years, but he has always been a demon finisher.

Wagner's new lease on life is remarkable. He's only a few points behind the leader in the National league average. Both races are more exciting than in many years past.

Speaking of excitement, don't you think a trapshooting competition between the most skillful ball players would make a lively afternoon's sport. Of course, all the players who are good trapshooters are not in the same city at the same time, but nevertheless, they are interested, and no doubt a tournament could be arranged at a time that would be suitable to all of them.

Among the "big leaguers" who are experts with the trap, and think there is nothing better than firing at tinny clays, are Tyus Raymond Cobb, Joe Jackson, Charles Albert Bender, Leslie Joe Bush, Frank Baker, Grover Alexander, Bill Carrigan, Pat Moran, Wilbert Robinson, Christy Mathewson, Harry Davis, Tris Speaker, Jack Coombs, Eddie Plank, Charles Griffith, Grady, Bob Shaw, John Henry Wagner, Eddie Collins, Billy Killefer, Oscar Duguey, Bert Niehoff, Walter Johnson and Ernie Shaw. This is only a few, but it shows the calibre of the ball player who is interested in trapshooting. By way of added interest it might be well to arrange a match for managers. Mathewson, Moran and Robinson then might shoot a match for the pennant. It would be an easier way than fighting through 154 ball games.

Some of these above mentioned players, notably among them being Mathewson, say that trapshooting keeps their eyes in more satisfactory condition than any other exercise or diversion. Maybe this is the reason why those interested in trapshooting bat so well and stick around so long in the big show. There is a reason.

EASTERN LEAGUE COMMENT
Worcester here again tomorrow.

There was some of the old "Burr-kett" life in that game yesterday.

Helfrich and Stimpson have started the timely hitting. Watch the others fall in line.

"I came out here just to see your pinch hit, Jesse!" shouted a fan. But it wasn't needed yesterday. The players came through.

Two or three times Bonsack had trouble in locating the plate, but when he appeared to be going bad Jesse would start talking and each time he settled down again.

Kane made Lowe look foolish yesterday, when the Dartmouth boy attempted to score from second on a single to center. Kane has a great throwing arm and loses no time in getting the ball away.

Catcher Skiff gave a very poor exhibition of throwing to second which may have been due to the wet ball. Three bases were stolen in the fourth inning.

Brickley, the Hartford right fielder, is a brother of Charles, the famous Harvard football player. The Hartford boy looks as if he might make a good center for a football eleven.

Wilson, who struck out on nearly every appearance at bat Wednesday, had a perfect average yesterday. He was passed on the first two occasions and then hit safely twice.

After 12 innings of scoreless baseball yesterday, Portland beat Lynn on an error, a sacrifice and three singles. A double header was scheduled but the second game was called on account of the late hour.

The Lowell team played far better baseball yesterday than it has for some time. Manager Burkett kept the players fighting all the time. They also took more chances with satisfactory results. The same brand of baseball as was offered yesterday will satisfy the fans.

If anyone is in doubt as to why Portland is leading the league, read the following batting averages:

Brown .301; Clemens .301; Longworth .294; Lowell .289; Sweet .278; Burns .277; Tamm .267; Beatty .247; Gaston .242; Tuckey .211; Durning .205; Martin .183; Mayberry .128; Pilt .103. Team .257. Opponents .216.

In the fifth inning, Tom Bannan missed a perfect throw on Lowe which would have sent him to the bench. On the next ball pitched, Lowe drove the ball to right for two bases, scoring the first Hartford run of the game.

Many old timers will run out to Spaulding park to again see the famous Burkett, whom they remember back in the good old days of the New England league. Worcester will be our opponent again and Jesse will work his hardest to bring Lowell out on top. Worcester is going good at the present time and Burkett will have to do some hard fighting.

MAKES 100 HITS
Earl Stimpson the First Lowell Player to Enter Select Class

Earl Stimpson, the hard working left fielder of the Lowell team, made his 100th hit of the season in the game with Hartford at Spaulding park yesterday afternoon. He is the first Lowell player to reach the century mark.

Although Stimpson's batting average up to last Friday was .277, it will undoubtedly be considerably increased.

Harry Hooper, star of the Red Sox, was once bought for $25,000.

This Speaker, Harry Hooper and Duffy Lewis have been rated as the greatest outfield trio baseball has ever known. To many members of the Boston Red Sox for several seasons their worth and value to the club was reckoned at $75,000. That the figure was no exaggeration was indicated when Speaker was sold to Cleveland for $25,000. Hooper and Lewis would easily bring about $25,000 if the Red Sox decided to put them on the market.

These figures are interesting in the case of Harry Hooper. Less than 10 years ago, when he was first starting in baseball, a modest offer of $25 secured his release and services. It was in 1907 that Bill Curtin was running the Sacramento club in the old State league. Sunday games only were being played, and Curtin found himself short of an outfielder. He took a fancy to Hooper, a youth who was with the Oakland State League club. Negotiations were on foot and $25 found the way.

Hooper was just finishing up his studies at St. Mary's college. A position was found for him in Sacramento as a civil engineer for a railroad company, and Harry put in his Sundays playing ball. Hooper, by the way, proved a very capable engineer, and could have made his mark in that profession had not baseball proved so attractive. During 1907 and 1908 the outfielder cavorted with Sacramento in the State league, and in 1909 he was sold to the Red Sox. His services had increased in value, as the price was $20,000, and at that figure he is doubtless one of the most reasonable stars in the Red Sox line up in their lineup.

The Californian jumped right into the lineup, and fans all over the country appreciate Hooper as a wonderful right fielder. He is an ideal lead-off man. While not a heavy hitter—around .260 being his usual station—he has a keen eye and is fast as a bullet.

Harry's forte, however, is his fielding. Like Speaker and Lewis, Hooper can cover a world of ground, and he has an arm of steel. He was an outstanding feature in the last world's series, and is doing his share this season to pull the Sox up into first place.

Donna Lona Turns Off Frost Grand Circuit Mile

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 25.—Volga, the under-rated 2-year-old of 1915, romped away with the champion 3-year-old stallion stake at yesterday's Grand Circuit races at North Randall. Volga was the favorite and easily the pick of the field.

Charley Valentine gave a fine exhibition of driving when he piloted Donna Lona to victory in the 2:16 trot, defeating the favorite and won the Cuyahoga stake for trotters that had never won over $2000 gross and beaten 2:10, with Easy Don. Donna Lona's first mile was turned in 2:05 1/2, which is a record for a 4-year-old this season.

H. K. Devereux in his attempt to drive Directum I to beat Williams' mark of 1:59 1/2, made to wagon with amateur driver, only reached 2:02 1/2.

Curt Gosnell, driving Hazel Armstrong, in a tight heat, was thrown from his buggy and seriously injured. The summary:

AN OUTSIDER THINS THE FIELD AT THE EASTERN MAINE FAIR RACE

BANGOR, Me., Aug. 25.—The racing at the Eastern Maine fair yesterday afternoon was the best of the week and furnished some surprises. The 2:24 class race was an upset for the talent, an outsider, Peru Bingen, owned and driven by Franz Simmons of Rockland, taking the race in three straight heats, beating the Brooklyn mare, Laura J. and the Calais horse, Mary Heir, picked as favorites.

In the 2:21 class an old-timer, Kohl McBeth, a trotter, made an unexpected comeback and cleaned up a field of pacers, including the favorites. The 2:30 pacing stake was an easy win for Charles Jackson, the one-armed driver, with Zom Q. Drivers were changed on Todd's Echo by the judges and the third heat was somewhat closer. The summary:

GERMAN VIEWS ON PEACE

Committee's Proclamation Says, "England is Our Special and Most Dangerous Enemy"

BERLIN, Aug. 24, via London, Aug. 25.—A proclamation containing views on the peace conditions which might be imposed by Germany is published today by the independent committee for a German peace, an organization formed some time ago by those considered to be the extreme war advocates in Germany.

The proclamation asserts that, despite the fact that the Germans and their allies are holding their kingdoms in their hands, the entente still takes of the destruction of the German empire and entente statesmen continue to indulge in a flood of abuse and lies about Germany; while themselves violating every principle of international law, forcing neutrals to enter the war against their better judgment, and endeavoring to force into submission through hunger, millions of people.

"Our enemies will not succeed," continues the proclamation. "One thing they have accomplished is to force upon us the realization that England is our special and most dangerous enemy. England causes our enemies to stick together. England leads them. Upon England they depend and will depend more after the war."

The document asserts that Russian territory from the Baltic to Volhynia must in the future be included in the German sphere to serve as a bulwark against the Russian tendency to annihilate Germany. France's revenge ideas must constantly be kept in mind, so that in the west also changes would be necessary.

Belgium, in the future, adds the proclamation, either will be a German or English bulwark, so real "guarances" here are also needed.

The document then cites the expression of Dr. Peter Spahn, leader of the Catholic center party in the Reichstag, that "Belgium must lie in German hands militarily, economically and politically."

"England's plan threatens us with political and economical history. It aims at our life as a people and as a state. It aims at our culture and institutions. Energy must be applied regardless of consequences to force peace upon this enemy. Let it not come true that, as England says, we will win all the battles, but England will win the war. With Von Hindenburg, let us say it is not only a question of sticking it out, but of winning."

REVOLUTION IN TURKEY

Sheriff of Mecca, Chief Magistrate of Holy City, Issues Proclamation—Independence Complete

LONDON, Aug. 25.—The grand sheriff of Mecca, chief magistrate of the Holy city, who announced his independence of Ottoman rule in June and, supported by Arab tribes, captured the Turkish garrisons of Mecca and several other cities, has proclaimed a definite rupture between Orthodox Mohammedans and those represented by the committee of union and progress, which now is in power in Turkey. In his proclamation, as forwarded from Cairo by Reuters correspondent, the grand sheriff denounces Enver Pasha, Talaat Bey and Djemal Pasha, young Turk leaders, staunch supporters of Germany and among the most powerful figures in Turkey. Djemal Pasha is commander of the Turkish forces in Syria and is reported to have adopted severe measures to crush the revolution.

The proclamation of the grand sheriff, addressed to "all our Moslem brothers" follows:

"We were one with the government until the unionists appeared. Since then ruin has overtaken the state, which now has been drawn into this fatal war. We bore with the unionists, notwithstanding their departure from the precepts of religion, until it became apparent that Enver Pasha, Djemal Pasha and Talaat Bey absolutely ruled Turkey, doing whatever they pleased. On one day they hanged twenty-one of the most honorable and enlightened Moslems, while children, old men and delicate women were bereaved of their natural protectors and subjected to foul usage, even torture. What stronger proof of their faithlessness is needed than the bombardment of holy places, such as Abraham's tomb and the killing of persons praying within a mosque?"

"God has opened the way to independence and freedom for us. Our independence is complete and absolute. Our aim is preservation of Islam."

AT SALISBURY BEACH

JITNEY RULES IN FORCE TOMORROW — SELECTMEN'S EDICT HITS BEACH CARS

The jitney regulations, adopted by the Salisbury board of selectmen, will go into effect Saturday and any jitney driver that is on the beach after today, without having complied with the rules, will be arrested for misdemeanor, and will be punished by a fine of not less than $5 or more than $20. The regulations require a bond of $100.

The license fees are fixed according to the seating capacity of the jitney, including the driver, five or less, $10, and for additional seating capacity $2 per passenger. The licenses shall be good for one year from the date of its issuance. Regular service is required to be maintained over the entire route, and will be prescribed on the certificate, and there will be no Saturday, Sunday and holiday licenses issued.

A rule has been made to the effect that no driver shall knowingly carry or permit to be carried, any intoxicating liquors in the jitney. The right of the selectmen to the board of selectmen is to designate a place on Broadway, where the jitneys will be required to load and unload passengers and will be prohibited from taking on passengers while the machine is in motion.

Chief Tapin has instructed his corps of policemen to enforce the regulations in a strict manner, and to show no leniency. It is expected that a number of jitneys that have been running at this beach all season will be missing because of the high bond that is required.

SOME WISE SUGGESTIONS

STATE DEPARTMENT OF FISH-ERIES AND GAME SEND OUT SOME TIMELY DON'TS

The following "don'ts" contained in the little pamphlet giving the new rules and amendments of the Massachusetts fish and game laws are very timely and worthy of the widest publication:

Don't throw a lighted match down; break it.

Don't smoke cigars or cigarettes in the woods or fields; if you must smoke, use a covered pipe.

Don't build any fires in the open without a permit from the town fire warden.

Don't leave a fire without covering well with water or sand.

Don'ts With Firearms

Don't point firearms at any human being or domestic animal. Keep the muzzle toward the ground or in the air.

Don't take a loaded firearm into a house, vehicle or boat. Don't set firearms down without unloading.

Don't carry a gun, club, fence or stream without unloading.

Don't shoot without knowing what you are shooting at.

Your hunter's license does not give you the right to hunt on posted land, reservations, parks or within the city limits.

Land owners have a lawful and moral right to have who may hunt on their property. Respect these rights and they will have more regard for you and your sport and recreation. Most land owners protect birds. The good they do eating weed seeds and insect pests repay them.

During severe winter weather hundreds of people are feeding them with grain and grit. You can help greatly by doing the same.

You should remember when hunting it takes a year to produce one adult bird; this may be destroyed in an instant. Kill large hawks, large owls, crows and other so-called vermin which are detrimental to the birds. Remember the fate of the passenger pigeon, once in countless numbers; now a reward of $1000 to find one pair nesting in the United States.

A Few Fish Don'ts

Don't take fish that are full of spawn; leave them to deposit their eggs, and the small to grow into mature fish.

Don't take more than you need.

Don't try for the largest number; try for the largest fish.

Don't try to get the last one; leave some for others.

Report violations to the fish and game commissioners. Remember, this is your sport and the hobby is as interesting as it is up to you to make or ruin it.

Feeding the Birds

With an iron rake scratch in waste places about fence corners, briar patches or any waste land and plant buckwheat, wheat, rye, kafir corn, sudan grass, or other grains to be left for birds in the fall and winter. In severe winter weather establish feeding stations. Clear away snow to the ground. Place grain and grit in hay chaff, barn sweepings or straw. Grit is necessary with hard grains. Build rough shelters of boughs on sunny side of stone walls, fences or other places where birds frequent. Leave two openings so they may escape their enemies.

TO DELAY ADJOURNMENT

RENEWAL OF SEN. OWEN'S FIGHT FOR CONSIDERATION OF CORRUPT PRACTICES BILL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Renewal yesterday of Senator Owen's fight for consideration at this session of his corrupt practices bill threatens to delay adjournment of congress.

Senator Owen said he would make a motion to call up his bill after the revenue bill was disposed of, and the test will come then.

In connection with his plea for action on his bill, Senator Owen declared the existing contributions law was a fraud upon the American people; accused senate republicans of deliberately trying to defeat his measure and charged that the so-called lumber trust had sent $40,000 in to Oklahoma to defeat his re-nomination because he voted to deny William Lorimer a seat in the senate.

HIS MILLIONS VANISHED

COTERIE OF STRANGE CHARACTERS GOT $5,000,000 FROM AGED RECLUSE

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—Edward W. Morrison, the 80 year old recluse, whose vanished millions are a subject of investigation before Judge Landis in the United States district court was declared today to have lost property valued at $5,000,000 to a coterie of strange characters within the last 20 years.

Francis J. Houlihan, counsel for Morrison's creditors, declared that unscrupulous lawyers, women and hordes of Chicago's underworld came into the life of the aged man, whose wealth was estimated from $3,000,000 to $5,000,000 to obtain his money.

He was taken on trips to other cities, Houlihan declared, women were brought to see him and new characters introduced to keep his fortune searching.

Search of the recluse's quaint old two story home, in which it was thought he had concealed vast sums of money, revealed $11.73 in cash and a bunch of old papers, cancelled checks and notes.

Subpoenas have been issued for the appearance in court of two burlesque girls, Margaret and Alice, whom Morrison recently adopted and of whom their reputed father, Joseph Burnsteln, a junk dealer, declares Morrison is the real father.

Under the terms of the will left by Morrison's father, James M. Morrison, the entire estate would go to the city of Chicago if the son died childless.

The Mexican commissioners decline to discuss their instructions.

WILL OF JOHN NESMITH

The recent compromise which the officials of New Hampshire made with the heirs of the John Nesmith estate of the city whereby New Hampshire received $30,000, has brought out the fact that in the will of John Nesmith two lots of land were bequeathed to the city of Franklin for a park or common. The lots occupy a fine location on what is known as Sanborn hill. Because of the fact that the conditions governing the bequest were never fulfilled by the city, however, the gift clause in the will became void. It was stipulated that the city of Franklin purchase the Sanborn cemetery in that town, remove the bodies and convert the cemetery into a part of the park with the two adjoining lots. The will was dated 1893 and by its terms Franklin was given 30 years in which to carry out the procedure.

court, Mr. Fox being allowed to go on his personal recognizance.

John J. Coughlin, collector of milk samples for the city, testified that on the morning in question he called at Mr. Fox's place and took several samples which he turned over to Milk Inspector Masters at city hall.

Henry Bissonette, a milkman, testified that he had a contract for five cans of milk for six months from Mr. Fox.

Milk Inspector Melvin F. Masters, who also conducted the case for the government, produced cards showing his analyses of the samples of milk and found that between ten and fifteen per cent. of water had been added to the milk.

No defense was offered and the court then found the defendant guilty and ordered him to pay a fine of $50. He appealed. Warren Fox, Esq., appeared for the defendant.

Charged With Assault

Charles A. Foye, through his counsel, George H. Allard, entered a plea of not guilty to a charge of assault on his wife on the morning of August 12. Daniel J. Donahue represented the government.

Mrs. Foye informed the court that she was married to the defendant on June 15. Since that time, she said, he had given her very little money and had done very little work. She said her husband assaulted her on three different occasions. The assault for which she got out a warrant for her husband was committed, she alleged, at the home of her brother in Appleton street between four and five o'clock in the morning. She testified that her husband struck her without any provocation and discolored her eyes.

The defendant denied the assault and said his wife's discolored eyes was due to a fall against a folding screen.

The court, after summing up the testimony in the case, found Foye guilty and ordered him to pay a fine of $5. He appealed.

Spent His Wife's Money

Janek Wojciech was charged with neglecting to provide for his wife and children. His wife testified that he worked one week and then loafed two weeks and during that time spent all the money he earned. She said he was of little use to her and that only recently he took $70 of her hard earned money and took a couple of friends of his to Woonsocket, R. I., and remained there until the money was spent. The court sentenced the man to two months in the house of correction, but later suspended the sentence.

Another Neglect Case

Lindley M. Philbrook, charged with neglecting his three minor children, was sentenced to three months in the house of correction.

Didn't Return Saw

Thomas M. Gaffney was charged with drunkenness and the larceny of a saw. According to the testimony offered, Gaffney went to a house in the vicinity of the Edison cemetery yesterday afternoon, and said that he was employed by the N.E.T. & T. Co. and that he had a pole which he wanted to cut into small pieces in order to take home. He asked for the loan of a saw and the woman of the house gave it to him. When he failed to return after a reasonable length of time, she notified the police and Patrolman O'Connell arrested the man. The complainant said that she did not care about pressing the case, all she wanted was to get the saw back. The court found the man guilty and gave him a suspended sentence of two months in jail. The case of drunkenness was placed on file.

Drunken Offenders

There were several drunken offenders before the court. One who was on parole from the state farm will be returned to that institution and another was given a suspended sentence to the state farm. Another received a suspended sentence of one month in jail and two were assessed $5 each.

EXPLOSION IN MANHOLE

Great Excitement in Moody St.
When Gas Exploded Sending Manhole Cover Soaring

The business people and residents in the vicinity of Moody and Cabot streets were startled this morning about 7.30 o'clock by an explosion of gas in a manhole in Moody street, which lifted the cover of the manhole about 15 or 20 feet in the air, shattered plate and window glass in stores and brought people scurrying from all points to see what had happened.

People who were passing through the street were deafened by the noise and when they saw the cover of the manhole shooting skyward they showed a disposition to run the other way. Fortunately there were no persons crossing the street near the manhole, nor were there any vehicles passing by or else there might be a sadder tale to the story.

The explosion was caused by the accumulation of either illuminating or sewer gas in a manhole in front of the liquor saloon of Mercer & Co. at 285 Moody street, which was ignited by a spark from the short circuiting of wires in an underground conduit.

Joseph Piette, a clerk in the employ of Mercer & Co., heard a rumbling sound in the basement, he says, and going to the door leading to the cellar was almost overcome by a noxious odor of gas. He then rushed into the street and lifted up a bulkhead leading from the sidewalk to the cellar and had just raised the lid when the cover of the manhole in the middle of the street shot high in the air with a resounding report.

Immediately following the explosion there was a shattering of glass, several windows in Mercer's place being broken, both window frames in the front of the store were loosened, several windows across the street were broken and a number of smaller panes of glass in tenements in the vicinity were smashed.

An investigation as to the cause of the explosion was made and those who looked into the matter were of the opinion that the manhole in the street had become filled with either illuminating or sewer gas, and when the gas in the conduit became short-circuited the gas was ignited and the explosion occurred.

Running from the manhole into the

We believe from practical experience that a name with something characteristic about it helps greatly to procure trade. ## HEADS OF BOTH SIDES CALLED TO WHITE HOUSE

Pres. Wilson Summoned Representatives of Employers and Employees Today

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—President Wilson summoned representatives of the employers and employees involved in the threatened railroad strike, to the White House today for conferences to discuss proposals which have developed out of his original plan of settlement.

Arrangements were made for the representatives of employers to see the president at 10.30 o'clock and for the representatives of the employees later.

The four brotherhood heads said on entering the White House that they did not know why they had been called by the president. It was understood President Wilson wanted to get their views on legislation under consideration to prevent controversies in the future.

The four brotherhood heads remained with the president an hour and a half but would make no statement on leaving. The president kept the committee waiting for an hour to continue his conference with railroad men.

"The situation in so far as we are concerned," A. B. Garretson, spokesman for the employees, later said, "is absolutely unchanged. No complete concrete proposition to which the railroads will agree has been tendered as it was when we accepted the president's plan. We deviated from it no way whatsoever."

AGAINST 8 HOUR DAY
WASHINGTON, August 25.—The railway strike negotiations resolved themselves today, outwardly at least, into a more or less confused state. Expressions of optimism from both sides were not so free as they were yesterday and feeling heretofore general among the managers that a plan to include the eight hour day would be found was not so evident. Some of the railway executives reverted to their prediction that it never would be conceded.

President Wilson kept his cabinet waiting an hour while he conferred with the four brotherhood heads. All parties to the conference steadfastly declined to say what was talked about. The railroad executives conferred among themselves during the day and it was thought possible they might later go to the White House. For the executives, this statement was issued: "The executives are understood to be studying the form of a communication to the president."

Some of the more optimistic still had hopes of a final decision being reached before tomorrow night. That the eight hour day basis will not be conceded apparently was growing in the conferences continued.

Later this afternoon President Lowell, Holden and Willard of Union Pacific, Burlington and Baltimore & Ohio, respectively, went to the White House. It was understood they would outline to President Wilson the conclusions of the select committee of executives so far.

WASHINGTON, August 25.—The army appropriation bill vetoed by President Wilson because of provisions in its revision of the articles of war was accepted by the house today with a revision approved by the war department, and now goes again to the president for signature. Chairman Hay, author of the provision which drew the veto, made no fight.

SUMMER FIELD MEETING

SENATOR LODGE GUEST OF HONOR AND PRINCIPAL SPEAKER AT WESTFORD GRANGE MEETING

U. S. Senator Henry Cabot Lodge was the guest of honor and the principal speaker at the summer field meeting of Westford grange, which was held yesterday in Westford. On account of the uncertainty of the weather the affair was conducted in the town hall, which was filled to its capacity.

At the close of the afternoon a reception was held by Senator Lodge and all present were given an opportunity to meet and talk with the distinguished guest.

The first speaker of the afternoon was Senator Lodge, who spoke in part as follows:

"I suppose I am as ill prepared to discuss agriculture as anybody in the United States. It is not that I am not interested in it, for I have assisted in the passage of many agricultural bills, but as a practical farmer I know almost nothing. I was brought up on the seashore, and while I know something about boats, and the sailing of them, my farming experience was limited to the keeping of one cow, that I finally sold because of the cost of the milk. But I do not forget, as Emerson says, that 'fishermen and farmers should constitute the state.' In this broad foundation was our republic built. By a shocking disregard of the need of protection, our fishing has declined, and the opening of the west, and better transportation caused our farming to do likewise.

"I feel, and I always have felt—and I speak out of an abundance of ignorance—that we have not taken full advantage of the situation created by the great industrial centers of New England. Our cities offer a very great market for our farms. We ought to develop their resources beyond the reach of competition. There is a chance both to make money, and to strengthen the state. Thousands of acres in Massachusetts, if in Europe, would be intelligently cultivated to the last acre. I believe that I can see the time coming when we will develop again the same rural life upon which the prosperity of our country once rested, and this will breed a sturdier type of men and women.

"Some other thoughts came into my mind today. I came through Lexington on the way here, and I passed the famous common. No American can pass by that spot without emotion. It was not a very great battle fought there—just a little skirmish in the gray dawn of the morning—but it was one of the most momentous of modern times, for it marked the beginning of the great march of democracy.

"We are hearing much today of Americanism. The value of this is not in the mere sound of the word. What do we really mean by it? Well, I mean what Lexington common typifies. Those men believed that there was something more precious than the life of the individual; something worth fighting and dying for if need be. There seems to be an opinion now that the individual is the only thing of importance. Much may be sacrificed if no hurt comes to him. His life must be saved at all cost.

"If this doctrine is right, then those men who came out in the early dawn of Lexington were wrong. Both principles cannot be right.

"A man's sympathy on matters outside of America may be one way or another, but he can love but one country; and that country should be America. Our ancestors fought for freedom, ordered liberty, self government and equality among men, and when the greater trial of the Civil war came, went out in thousands and gave their lives to maintain the principles of an undivided union. And these are the only ideals by which this country can live. When we cease to fight for our liberty this country cannot live. When man comes to the conclusion that the highest aim of life is the accumulation of a fortune, then democracy is near a failure.

"I think that this is a time when we should consider these things."

So much stress, deservedly or undeservedly, has been laid upon the disagreeable or unpleasant features of this wonderful play that it is well to recall that, after all, its moral is THE TRIUMPH OF MOTHER LOVE. The District Attorney's Wife, after her persistent avoidance of the pains and responsibilities of maternity, comes at last to the realization of its great, its holy meaning.

That she, on account of her foolish, aye, her criminal acts, was unable to wear the glorious diadem of motherhood, is simply an emphasis of the worth of that diadem. The happy mother of the eugenic baby, the no less happy mother of the "olive branches" child, with three more children upon her, are object lessons that cannot be overlooked, and these mothers become the natural objects of envy of the poor rich-women to whom maternity is denied.

And so, "motherhood triumphant" becomes the oriflamme of "WHERE ARE MY CHILDREN?"

PRAISES PRES. WILSON

Golden Rule Basis of Foreign Policies, Says Secretary of War Baker at Waterville

WATERVILLE, Me., Aug. 25.—Vigorous praise for the administration's European and Mexican policies was the outstanding feature of the address here last night of Secretary of War Newton D. Baker, the principal speaker at a meeting held in connection with the democratic campaign in Maine in behalf of President Wilson. The president's course, Mr. Baker said, "has infused the spirit of the Declaration of Independence and of the golden rule" into this country's foreign relations.

Consistent Program

"I have shown that the administration of President Wilson has followed a consistent program in its domestic legislation," Mr. Baker declared toward the end of his address. "It has procured the enactment of laws more wholesome and beneficial than perhaps can be credited in the aggregate to the administrations which have intervened since the Civil war. It is inspired by a philosophy which is an expression of the longing of mankind in this day and generation. It has refused to allow itself to be turned aside by foreign violence from the accomplishment of its great program.

"The administration has kept the peace. It has done unto Mexico as we would be done by, and has infused the spirit of the Declaration of Independence and of the Golden Rule into its foreign relations. It has maintained friendly relations with the European belligerents, and placed this country in a position from which, when the end of the great European struggle comes, the moral forces of the United States can be exercised in the interests of justice and humanity.

Large Problems Ahead

"Large problems lie before us in the next four years. The reconstruction must take place. No unfamiliar hand should be put in to guide the course of our nation during that period. No uncertain voice should be permitted to speak our spirit at the council table that reorganizes the universe. This is a time when, having pressed forward nobly on a high and difficult course, the finish should be left to those who have demonstrated their ability by their work already done."

During his discussion of the European policies, Mr. Baker said: "We have those who hint, but dare not say, that if they had been in the places of responsibility they would have involved us in that maelstrom. They indulge in a cheap form of eloquence about what they would have done, and affect to believe that in some obscure way we are hurt in our self-pride because all the rest of the Worry never brought any good to anybody. But, you say, "I don't worry because I want to." I worry because I can't help it." Or, "I worry because I have so much to worry about."

We all have our troubles and worry, of course, makes matters worse. The patient generally recognizes this fact without being able to profit by it.

The doctor who could meet this nervous condition and cure it would be the most popular medical man alive. But he cannot do it because the form of nervous exhaustion known as neurasthenia, of which worry is a characteristic symptom, must be cured by the patient himself. That is why you should write today for the book "Diseases of the Nervous System" and read the chapter on "Neurasthenia." So many people have read it and written back, "This is my case exactly. I am giving this treatment a trial and being benefited," that the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., has had a lot of these books printed and will send you a copy free on request.

world is thus engaged, while we are preserving our peaceful relations.

Friend of Belligerents

"The United States is today the friend of each of the belligerent nations. Our fields are growing the crops that are to feed the multitudes whose hands have been withdrawn from the plow to be given to the sword. Our workshops and factories are making the implements of retribution which will make life possible again in Europe when this great scourge is passed.

"We have preserved the peace with justice, and have saved to ourselves an opportunity far larger than any participation in this struggle could have given. We want no territory, we seek no advantage, we desire but an opportunity to help restore the balance, with friendship and prosperity and opportunity for the people of the old world.

After reviewing the developments of Mexican unrest, which he pointed out, began to manifest itself long before Woodrow Wilson became president, Mr. Baker continued:

Could Not Recognize Huerta

"President Taft declined to recognize the dissolute monster (Huerta). Secretary of State Knox withheld the approval of the United States from that sort of treachery. President Wilson withheld recognition from Huerta, and the long and troubled course of our dealing with Mexico has been, in part at least, because both President Taft and President Wilson believed that a nation-loving justice, as I hope we have it, could not extend its favor to this medieval despot, cast up with all of his villainies upon his head as outcasts by the waters of a revolution otherwise hopeful and pure as to its object."

Mr. Baker expressed the hope that the American soldiers on the Texas border may not be required to fire on other shots "but that their ultimate victory and the restoration of peace and contentment and prosperity in northern Mexico may come as the climax to a series of bloodless victories."

THE MIGRATORY BIRDS

NEW REGULATIONS FOR CLOSED SEASONS ON MIGRATORY WATER FOWL AND BIRDS

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—The members of the advisory committee to the department of agriculture on the migratory bird law, in view of the fact that new regulations setting forth closed seasons on migratory water fowl and birds were today made public, issued a statement as follows:

To the People of the United States: The advisory committee appointed by the secretary of agriculture, Hon. D. F. Houston, to co-operate with the bureau of biological survey in fixing the regulations for closed seasons on migratory birds, as authorized by the federal migratory bird law, desires to state that after the most careful consideration, and the most exhaustive investigation, and the most careful consideration of every point, the regulations as promulgated were unanimously recommended by the members of this committee. We realize the utter impossibility of even attempting to list all that desire to protect migratory birds.

In recommending the regulations we were controlled by the following considerations:

First—A most earnest desire to save from certain depletion and threatened annihilation the valuable waterfowl, game and insectivorous birds which migrate across the United States twice each year.

Second—To accord the hunters in the various states as nearly as possible an equal opportunity of taking migratory waterfowl and nomadic game birds.

Third—To open the seasons during which these birds can be legally killed in the months when under normal weather and food conditions the largest number of migratory waterfowl and birds sojourn in any particular state.

Fourth—To absolutely eliminate spring shooting, when migratory waterfowl and birds on the northward migration are journeying towards their breeding grounds, thus impelled by the resistless force of nature, to mate, nest and reproduce their species.

Fifth—To recognize unusual and extraordinary conditions existing in a few of the states, without effecting the equity in vested rights of the people of the whole country in the migratory bird life.

Sixth—To submit reasonable, practical, fair and just regulations that should invite the support of all true conservationists.

Seventh—To guarantee not only to the present generation a reasonable supply of migratory bird life, but to so protect it that it will multiply and be handed to future generations as their proper and rightful heritage.

The imperative necessity for the enactment of the federal migratory bird law is palpable to every thoughtful and discerning mind.

Migratory bird life does not even recognize national, to say nothing of state, lines. The variability of the statutes of the states protecting these migrants, the lack of uniformity in these laws, the rapacity with which the nomadic birds are slaughtered by voracious annihilators of bird life in many of the states, the detriment of the people, largely compelled the conclusion of Congress that the exigencies of the situation demanded federal regulations that would, in reality, save the migratory waterfowl and birds from extermination.

The people of no country have been so abundantly blessed with valuable natural resources as ours.

The American people are notoriously a nation of wasters. Only by reason of the fact that their natural resources are fast disappearing have they been induced to extend even a modicum of conservation to these fast-vanishing assets.

Conservation does not mean preventing the use of our natural resources as a miser would hoard his gold, but means the wise and careful use of our national heritage, taking therefrom only a sufficient quantity to supply our needs, with the full realization that we are trustees for future generations.

We are convinced that under the operation of this law shooting will improve each year.

The need of the hour has heretofore appeared to be uppermost in the minds of the people. They have drawn recklessly on their natural inheritance with scarcely a thought of the future. It is a notable fact that in our rapacity for slaughter many of the most valuable species of game and birds that formerly abounded in this country have been annihilated.

The wild or passenger pigeon that formerly swarmed over Eastern North America in countless millions has become extinct. The American bison, found on the great plains of the west, was slaughtered by hide-hunters to the point of extermination. The Great Auk, the Eskimo curlew, the Labrador duck, the Carolina Parakeet have been exterminated. There are many other valuable North American birds that are candidates for extinction, including the whooping crane, trumpeter swan, American flamingo, roseate spoonbill, scarlet ibis, long-billed curlew, upland plover, Hudsonian godwit, red-breasted sandpiper, golden plover, dowitcher, willet, pectoral sandpiper, black-capped petrel, American egret, snowy egret, wood duck, band-tailed pigeon, heath hen, sage grouse, white-tailed kite, prairie sharpshooter, phalarope and woodcock.

Future generations can only be judged by those that have gone before, hence the enactment and the enforcement of a comprehensive system of federal conservation of migratory bird life was made necessary. If this valuable asset was to be retained among the resources of the United States.

Aside from aesthetic consideration, birds and game constitute a valuable article of food. From a recreational standpoint, this resource is of the greatest value to our people.

We feel that the failure of any American citizen to accord the federal migratory bird law his most active support is due either to lack of information or selfishness.

We therefore urge and request all patriotic citizens to exert their influence to the utmost to the end that the incalculable benefits contemplated by this law, and most specifically accruing to the people under the regulations just promulgated, be given their moral support, that the enlightened conscience of the people may be quickened to a full observance and vigilant enforcement of this wise and progressive conservation measure.

OPENING OF THE SCHOOLS

Children Safer in School Than on the Streets Under Careful Medical Inspection

Special to The Sun
STATE HOUSE, Boston, Aug. 25.—Officials of the state department of health and of the state board of education agree that the school committee in each city and town is the final authority as to the date on which the public schools shall open; neither department has any authority in the matter, nor is either one likely to make any suggestion to the local authorities.

The health department officials are also of the opinion that each local board of health has only secondary powers in the matter; that is to say, they believe that a local board of health has no authority to say that the schools shall not open before a specified date, but if, after the schools are opened, the local board of health finds that an epidemic of any contagious disease exists within its jurisdiction and is of the opinion that conditions warrant such action, it may order the schools closed for such period of time as it sees fit.

State department of health officials, however, consider it extremely unlikely that local boards of health will take such action, however, except possibly in some of the smaller places. As a matter of fact, health authorities everywhere are of the opinion that children are safer in the public schools than they would be running about the streets, particularly if health inspection is provided in the schools.

Dr. Lyman A. Jones of North Adams, the newly appointed director of the division of hygiene, discussing the matter today, said: "This department has no authority to postpone the opening of the public schools, and would not exercise such authority if it could, except possibly in some of the smaller communities where the children live at considerable distances from school and from each other."

"We are of the opinion that the danger of contagion will be very slight in schools where there is adequate medical inspection, but this should include an examination of each pupil on the opening day of school, a daily visit of the physician to each school room, and following up by the physician of each child who remains away from school."

"With such inspection, we believe cases will be detected much more speedily in the school rooms than would be the case at home, for it has been our experience that children have suffered with the disease sometimes for 26 or 48 hours before the parents suspected its nature and called a physician, and of course in the vast majority of cases of this sort the child is then beyond the reach of the school physician and teachers."

"The school physicians and teachers, however, will readily detect the first symptoms, and their watchfulness, we are confident, will materially help in lessening the death rate from the disease."

"Then there is the further consideration that children running unrestrained about the streets, especially in the larger cities, are much more likely to come in contact with the disease than they would be in the school room. So we confidently expect that the opening of the schools, in conjunction with the cooler September weather, will bring a speedy end to the malady in this state."

DRACUT'S TAX RATE

WE THOUGHT WE HAD SOME TAX RATE, BUT DRACUT'S $23.90 PADES US

A big surprise, and not a very pleasant one, was sprung in Dracut yesterday afternoon when the assessors announced that the tax rate had jumped $3.46 per thousand, making the tax rate for 1916 $23.90 per thousand.

The tax rate for 1915 was $20.50 per thousand and a drop of at least $1 per thousand had been expected.

The total commitment last year was $54,673.76, against a levy of $65,456.93 the present year.

The valuation increased $31,453. In 1915 the valuation was $2,570,729, while this year it jumped to $2,652,173.

The assessed polls now number 1035, against 987 the previous year.

The total appropriations for the year jumped from $56,000 to almost $70,000. The increase in dwelling houses stood at 63, while there were four houses less and about 100 more cows.

The tax rate in the water district will likely be set at $2. This shows a decrease of $2.70, as the rate last year was $4.70 per $1000. The drop is caused by the appropriation being kept at a minimum and a reduction in the operation of the district work.

NINTH ON BORDER DUTY

Regiment to Remain on Patrol Five Days Longer Than Planned

—Bay State Men in Demand

EL PASO, Tex., Aug. 25.—Two regular army generals appear likely to engage in a friendly struggle to secure the Bay State Infantry brigade here as a part of their divisions.

The officers in question are General Bell and General Charles G. Morton, each of whom is to command one of the four divisions which are scheduled to be located in this military district.

General Morton, who was formerly the United States army inspector-instructor of Massachusetts and who is personally acquainted with most of the Bay State officers, is anxious to put the Massachusetts brigade in his division, and it is stated here that he has asked that they be assigned.

It is known that General Bell does not want to lose the Bay State brigade, which has been under him since its arrival on the border and which has made a very strong impression on the general. The Bay State men have been given every opportunity by General Bell to get much needed experience. The latter has stood squarely behind the Massachusetts men on various questions that have arisen and has taken a very deep interest in their welfare.

Yesterday it was announced here that the Ninth regiment will be on border patrol five days longer than was at first planned and that much longer than the men of the Fifth and the Eighth did this duty, due to the fact that the Michigan regiment, which is to relieve the Ninth, is to be inspected by federal officers within the next few days, as are all of the militia troops in Camp Cotton.

Three Ninth regiment men had a narrow escape from serious, if not fatal, injury here yesterday morning when a big trolley car, said to be going at high speed, crashed into one of the Ninth regiment's four-mule teams, all three men were badly shaken up and bruised. Two of the mules were fatally injured, while both wagon and car were considerably damaged.

Comets Give Show

Last night G company of the Ninth, the Emmet Guards, of Worcester, gave a minstrel show to the people of Las Cruces, New Mexico, where the company is on border patrol. Brigadier-General Charles Chittell, Colonel Logan of the Ninth, Major Smith of the Thirty-fourth regulars, Captain M. J. O'Connor of the Ninth and several other officers left here yesterday for Las Cruces. They inspected the companies in this town and in Canutillo, N. M., and were present at the minstrel show.

Battery A of the Bay State artillery regiment returned to Camp Pershing yesterday from Tule and Battery F Eighth left for that town. The headquarters company also left camp on a 30-hour hike.

LIFE BOAT EQUIPPED

EMERGENCY CRAFT WILL BE KEPT AT POLICE STATION—HAS WATERSCOPE AND LUNG MOTOR

The boat recently purchased by the city of Lowell at the suggestion of the waterways commission is now completely equipped with all kinds of apparatus useful in recovering a body and is already to be hoisted on the set of wheels that is expected to arrive here immediately. The equipment was also procured with the waterways commission appropriation.

The boat is a slick looking one similar to those used by the Metropolitan park police and will accommodate six persons. It is marked, as is all the other equipment, with the words "City of Lowell." As soon as the wheels arrive the boat will be placed in the stable in the rear of the police station where it will be at the disposal of the public at all times. In the event of a drowning accident the police station will be notified. The wheels to which the boat is attached will be tied to the rear of an automobile or wagon and the entire combination will be hauled to the scene of action.

Supt. Welch is heartily in accord with the plan of the waterways commission and he will make some arrangement to have policemen accompany the boat.

The entire equipment is the best and most modern that could be obtained. It includes eight grappling hooks, six 14 feet long and two 20 feet, four grappling irons with ropes, 150 feet of rope, anchor, extra oars and oarlocks, rubber blankets and an adjustable "waterscope." The "waterscope" which is of the same idea as a telescope, will be attached to the rear of the boat and will extend down into the water. It is adjustable and a person is supposed to be able to see bottom clearly in from six to 25 feet of water. A light is attached to the instrument whereby the bottom can be more plainly seen in muddy water. The person operating the "scope" will kneel on a seat in the rear of the boat and look through one end. Two ropes will enable him to raise or lower it and also to move it around so that he can see over about six feet at one time. Batteries to furnish the light will be carried in a small box located in the boat.

Along with the apparatus described above a "lung motor" has been purchased and is expected to arrive here daily. This is said to be more valuable than the pulmotor in use at the present time and will be used for the same person. This also will be kept at the police station.

TEACH CHILDREN TO SWIM

The numerous drownings in and around Lowell convey a forcible message to our city officials, a message that has been heard ringing in the public ear for many many years and which is still unheeded. It is the message that to protect the lives of our children so far as may be against drowning, the city should provide the means for all school children to learn to swim. Indeed the ability to swim should be made a condition of graduation at the grammar schools. The boys and the girls as well, should be taught to swim before they reach the graduating age.

The expense would be the chief objection; but even though it might be considerable it would be money well spent. "This is not education of the right sort," we may be told. Perhaps not; but it is the kind of education that will save many lives which is more than can be said of a smattering of grammar or geography. The protection of life comes before education and taking this view, the school board should make arrangements to have all the children of our city taught to swim.

During the summer vacation, this could be done in an open air swimming pool; and if we are to have a new and up-to-date high school, it should have a gymnasium and swimming pool combined. The public at large would endorse a movement to safeguard the lives of our children against a danger which strikes our city more severely than cities less abundantly supplied with waterways. To accommodate the school children as conveniently as possible, a swimming tank should be centrally located, so that the children from the grades of the various grammar schools would have equal opportunity in taking swimming lessons.

The planning board which has apparently been enjoying a long vacation, might devise a practical plan for this purpose to be submitted for adoption by the school board.

THE DEMOCRATIC RECORD

No administration perhaps since the days of President Lincoln can show a record of constructive legislation superior to that of the present democratic regime. The measures enacted are so important and so numerous that it is difficult to give an adequate idea of them. The federal reserve act which makes panics impossible and which has relieved the country from the domination of Wall street, is one of the most important measures enacted by congress since the Civil war. The rural credits act, which affords the farmers of the country ready facilities for securing credit, is another measure that will be of vast benefit to those engaged in agriculture throughout the land.

The parcel post law is another measure the benefits of which would be difficult to estimate. It has entirely broken down the express trusts that were extorting exorbitant charges and has offered new facilities for transmission of parcels throughout the country. It is of great benefit to all classes of people.

Chairman McCormick of the democratic national committee, addressing himself to the progressives, enumerated the chief democratic reforms enacted under the present administration as follows:

1. The rural credits act, which permits the farmer the same access to credit facilities that is enjoyed by the other elements of our citizenship.
2. The income tax law.
3. The federal reserve act, which measures up to the progressive requirement for "the issue of currency as a governmental function under a strict and central control should be lodged with the government and should be protected from domination or manipulation by Wall street or by any special interest."

4. The good roads law, which extends federal aid to road building.
5. The trade commission law, which fully satisfied the progressive demand for "a strong federal administrative commission of high standing that shall maintain permanent, active supervision over industrial corporations engaged in interstate commerce."

6. An eight-hour law applying to work done for the government as well as work done by the government.
7. An eight-hour law applying to female employees in the District of Columbia, over which congress has jurisdiction.

8. An eight-hour provision for postoffice clerks and carriers.
9. An eight-hour provision applicable to civilians engaged in the manufacture of ordnance and powder for the government.

10. An eight-hour provision as to the mining of all coal to be used by the navy.
11. The children's bureau law to promote the welfare of children and to devise means preventive of the necessities of parents retarding development of the child.

12. The industrial commission law to investigate the entire subject of industrial relations.
13. The phosphorus match law to protect the health of workers in the match industry.

14. The Clayton anti-trust act, embracing the regulations of the issuance of injunctions.
15. The department of labor law, creating a department with a secretary, who shall be a member of the president's cabinet.

16. The Smith-Lever agricultural education law, which responds to the progressive demand that measures be taken to lift "the last load of illiteracy from American youth" by "encouraging agricultural education and domestic schools."
17. The corrupt elections practices act.
18. Measures abolishing the commerce court and authorizing the interstate commerce commission to make a physical valuation of railroads.

19. The Sherwood pension bill, which must meet the progressive idea of a "wise and just policy of pensioning American soldiers and sailors and their widows and children."
20. The parcels post law.

In addition, the shipping bill and the various measures for preparedness may be mentioned.

With such a record of achievement in necessary and far reaching reforms, the republicans are up against a difficult proposition in this campaign. As a result they are confining their attacks mainly to the executive policy of the president and his diplomacy in dealing with other countries. In these matters, he has attained eminent success although the difficulties encountered were the greatest that came to any president since the days of Lincoln.

HUGHES OPPOSED INCOME TAX

Candidate Hughes is not saying much about the income tax amendment to the constitution. That amendment was adopted in 1913 and was the result of democratic initiative in the face of strong republican opposition. It was brought about through the evident necessity for the power to tax incomes and thus compel the wealthy to pay a fair share of the government revenue rather than take too great a proportion of it out of the pockets of the masses.

In 1894, the democratic congress passed a revenue law providing for a flat rate of two per cent. on all incomes over $4000. This law was declared unconstitutional by a decision of the supreme court of the United States, voting five to four. In 1896, the democratic platform favored an income tax and the same stand was taken in 1900. The platform of 1908 demanded an amendment to the constitution authorizing an income tax. The republicans in their platform firmly opposed the amendment as unnecessary. The democrats in congress added an income tax provision to the Aldrich tariff bill and through progressive support secured its adoption. The republicans, it appears, did not expect that the amendment would be ratified and Candidate Hughes, then governor of New York, sent a measure to the legislature protesting against the ratification; but in spite of his protest, the amendment was ratified in New York as in other states. Thus an important measure for the relief of the masses from excessive taxation was enacted through democratic activity in the face of republican opposition. No governor at the time opposed the measure more vigorously than did Candidate Hughes.

GUS GARDNER'S TIRADE

Congressman Gardner will drop his favorite stunt of assailing the army and navy for their alleged unpreparedness; and from now until after election he will assail President Wilson for not making war on some other power.

There was a time during the interchange of notes with Germany when the president would have severed relations with that power, had she not yielded to the demands that the rules of civilized warfare be observed, and that the barbarous submarine policy of sinking merchant vessels on sight be abandoned. Had Germany taken a different course and had diplomatic relations been cut off, Gardner and Hughes and Roosevelt today would be out denouncing Wilson for his harsh action. At one time before the opening of the campaign, the republicans were considering whether it would be more popular to assail Wilson's policy as "spineless" or to criticize it as going to extremes against Germany while failing to call other powers to account for equal infractions of international law. Being the war party or rather what bears its name, the leaders finally decided to assail Wilson's policy towards European powers and Mexico as weak, and hence Gardner and all the other spellbinders of the republican party must dispense hot air on that subject in the absence of any real issue.

For this reason, Gus Gardner comes out "real loud" charging Wilson with keeping the nation at peace; but at the expense of the "nation's glory." This for campaign purposes is all that could be expected from Gardner. If he believes what he says, he must think that American citizens are elating to plunge into the European war. But he does not believe anything of the kind; and he knows that his attack on these lines is merely campaign buncombe.

The despatches say "Two British warships were sunk, with only 30 lives lost." So large have been the death tolls in this European slaughter, that anything less than a few hundred lives looks small.

The republicans in congress have undertaken to force the immigration bill to a vote and President Wilson will wisely follow the course of his predecessors in vetoing it.

Most people will agree with Commissioner Morse that the bills of his department should not be paid without his approval. Each commissioner has certain rights which should not be ignored or overruled by the others except in case of real urgency.

Matrimony is all right until either one or the other gets to be a watchdog.

Society is much to blame itself for some of the men and women who go wrong.

They are now plowing, cultivating and harvesting at night on some of the big farms out west. That isn't because the farmers' day isn't long enough already, but because it is much cooler to work by the light of great areas than under the boiling sun—the reverse of daylight saving.

A pepper fed chicken, if kept thirsty long enough, will drink a pound of water, and poultry dealers are bringing ing to New York chickens with thirsts excited in this manner and allowing them to drink just before they sell them. This is what Joseph Hartigan, commissioner of weights and measures, announced yesterday he had discovered.

Where'd She Get the Egg?
It is unusual for a hen to hatch out a woodpecker, but an instance is reported by Ira Cordery, a farmer living near Federalburg, Md. The hen had been missing for some time. When found she was mothering 11 baby chicks and one tiny woodpecker, which appeared perfectly happy to let the hen scratch worms for it, and the hen is paying just as much attention to the little woodpecker as it is to her brood of chicks. The woodpecker's appearance is explained on the supposition that a woodpecker laid an egg in the hen's nest while the hen was off looking for food.

Too Much For His Faith
"The late Bishop Hare" said a Sioux Falls physician, "used very occasionally to impute scepticism to misunderstanding."

He once told me about a Philadelphia business man of sceptical tendencies, who said to him:

"My dear Mr. Hare, I do not refuse to believe in the story of the ark. I can accept the ark's enormous size, its odd shape and the vast number of animals it contained, but when I am asked, my dear doctor, to believe that the children of Israel carried this unwieldy thing for 40 years in the wilderness—well, there I'm bound to say, my faith breaks down."

Follow Our Example
An esteemed correspondent writes The News in approval of the sentiments expressed the other day relative to a cleaner and a better Salem. It is given prominence today because the subject is one of importance to this community as to every other community. Lowell has entered upon a similar campaign. The mayor has directed the police to impress upon householders and lodgers the necessity of exercising care and judgment in the matter of disposing of refuse, garbage, etc. The Lowell Sun well remarks that "just now with the fear of infantile paralysis stalking over the land, to say nothing of the other diseases which late summer brings along, it behooves us all to keep our streets and premises free from every sort of thing that may aid in the spread of disease."

Why might we not in Salem have the police look after the cleanliness of our streets and yards? Under the direction of the public safety department and the guidance of the health department they can do wonders. If they will without any serious strain on themselves in the way of extra labor. Kindly advice, even though not always pleasantly received, will accomplish much and perhaps save a life or two. Mayor O'Donnell's plan is well worth the effort here.—The Salem News.

The House by the Side of the Road
There are hermit souls that live withdrawn from the world.

In the peace of their self-content, There are souls, like stars, that dwell apart.

In a lawless argument: There are pioneer souls that blaze their paths.

Where highways never ran: But let me live by the side of the road, And be a friend to man.

Let me live in a house by the side of the road
Where the race of men go by— The men who are good and the men who are bad.

As good and as bad as I. I would not sit in the scorners' seat. Or hurl the cynic's ban. Let me live in a house by the side of the road, And be a friend to man.

I see from my house by the side of the road
By the side of the highway of life. The men who press with the ardor of hope.

The men who are faint with the strife, But I turn not away from their smiles nor their tears— But I turn of an infinite plan— Let me live in my house by the side of the road, And be a friend to man.

I know there are brook-gladdened meadows ahead, And mountains of wearisome height; That the road passes on through the long afternoon, And stretches away to the night. But still I rejoice when the travelers jogle.

And when with the strangers that moon, Nor live in my house by the side of the road, Like a man who dwells alone.

Let me live in a house by the side of the road
Where the race of men go by— They are good, they are bad, they are weak, they are strong, Wise, foolish—so am I. Then why should I sit in the scorners' seat, Or hurl the cynic's ban? Let me live in my house by the side of the road, And be a friend to man.

formal announcement being made by the board of assessors today. The rate is the same as last year.

According to the figures submitted to the mayor by Mr. Murphy the valuation of all kinds of property about the city has increased $219,750 this year despite the fact that the organization of the American Woolen Co. which took place the first of the year, meant a loss to the city of many thousands of dollars.

The loss in the poll tax assessment amounted to only $50.

BIG SOCIETY FUNCTION HOT SUN KILLED HIM

PAUL TO ASSIST PARALYSIS FIGHT WITH $50 TICKETS AT MAGNOLIA

One of the largest social affairs of the season will be a ball at the Oceanview hotel, Magnolia, on Friday, Sept. 1, under the auspices of the Massachusetts branch of the Woman's American Supply League. The money will be expended in aid of the combat against infantile paralysis.

It is expected that not less than 1000 couples will be present. The tickets, which sell at $5, with boxes at $50, can be secured at the hotel in Boston or along the north shore or from members of the committee.

Extremely active in the work is Mrs. John Hays Hammond, who is president of the national association.

The honorary chairman for the ball is Mrs. Samuel W. McCall, the executive chairman is Mrs. John Blodgett of Prides Crossing. Among the many other society women composing the committee are Mrs. R. D. Evans, Miss Helen Erick of Prides Crossing, Miss Abbie Hunt and Miss Belle Hunt of Beverly, and Miss M. E. Hammond of Gloucester.

Gov. McCall will be present, escorted by the Lancers. An attractive event of the evening will be a number by an artist loaned by R. F. Keith.

The Woman's American Supply League, which describes itself as "A Militia of Mercy," is an organization which was formed only last month but which promises to become a national wide, including women from all classes.

Its object, as explained in the constitution, is "to supply necessities to the men at the front and in mobilization camps; to furnish needed assistance to families of soldiers in the way of work or relief; to furnish hospital supplies to the Red Cross and other war relief agencies; and to create and develop in the United States for all time a militia of patriotic women, trained and prepared for such service as women can render toward national needs."

Mrs. Hammond, who organized and is the prime mover of the organization, is also first vice president of the National Council of Women, which numbers over 7,000,000 women. She feels sure that very many of them will join the new body.

Famous Everett Musician Now Is Singing the Praises of Plant Juice.

A true formula should have three essentials: First, it should give quick relief; second, it should destroy germs of disease; and, third, it should build up new tissue. The first is to inspire the necessary confidence that the sufferer must have in the remedy; second, is to completely eliminate the cause of the diseased condition; and, third, is to build up new tissue to give Nature a chance to invigorate every organ in the body.

That this is what Plant Juice, the new herbal stomach remedy, is doing is being demonstrated every day by the numerous testimonials received from every city where it has been introduced. Since Plant Juice has been introduced in Boston scores of local people have testified to benefits received.

Recently the signed statement of Mr. P. S. Holbrook of No. 67 Linden St., Everett, one of the best known teachers of music in this city, having lived here since 1878, and who has stayed in every large city in the United States and Canada was received. He said as follows:

"For ten years or more I have suffered with indigestion in its worst form and had been unable to find a medicine that would give lasting results. At last I decided to try Plant Juice and have steadily improved in health since taking it. My stomach was all filled with gas, which caused a heavy, bloated condition; I was so nervous I could not sleep and had to lie on my back for months. As I could digest nothing else. Now I can eat anything I want, and am not nervous, sleep well and have steadily gained in weight and consider myself entirely cured. I cannot recommend Plant Juice too highly."

The Plant Juice man is at Dow's the druggists in Merrimack square, where he is daily meeting the Lowell public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.

PATRICK MAHONEY WAS OVERCOME AT CASABIE LAKE PARK, WHERE HE WORKED

Patrick Mahoney of Salem Depot, who was stricken with a sunstroke at Casabie Lake park three weeks ago, died Wednesday afternoon at the Barrington hospital in Methuen where he was taken for treatment. Mr. Mahoney was a man of middle age and made his home on Maple place. He had been employed about the Casabie Lake park ever since it opened some years ago and was well known to many people who frequented the place.

Three weeks ago he was overcome by the heat while at his work and removed to his home and later taken to the Methuen sanitarium, where he died. He leaves a wife, two daughters, Louise and Rita and one brother, George A. Mahoney of Lynn. His funeral took place this afternoon. Burial was in the family lot in Wintham, N. H. cemetery.

OFFICER GRADY

agent of the board of health to keep their garbage pails covered, and the tenants abutting the avenue have been asked to refrain from throwing papers in the alley. The mayor said all he saw in the avenue was some waste paper near the corner of Paige street and two or three unopened barrels filled with paper boxes, not garbage. There were three unopened barrels of garbage in the avenue, but they had just been taken out for the board of health employees to remove this morning. Incidentally the mayor said that the employees of the health department remove the garbage from Pollard avenue four times a week, Mondays, Tuesdays, Fridays and Saturdays and his Honor still maintains that the condition of Pollard avenue is not as bad as represented by certain parties.

Perry's court off Middlesex street, which is not city property, was today thoroughly cleaned by health employees and the owners of the yard had their attention called to the matter of keeping their premises in a good clean condition. The owners of property abutting Pollard avenue have also been asked to co-operate with the health department in keeping the alley in a clean condition.

Police Superintendent Inspects
Supt. Welch of the police department reported to the mayor and Agent Bates this morning that he has personally investigated the condition of Pollard avenue and he found nothing to be criticized in the line of disorderly breeding. The superintendent informed His Honor that he went to the avenue yesterday morning and again this morning and he found conditions very normal with the exception of a pool of surface water caused by the rain and the only remedy to that would be the paving of the alley, which would have to be done at the expense of the property owners.

Corporations Beware
The attention is being called of the various local corporations which employ minors, who have to secure educational certificates to the following state law, which has reference to school certificates: "This certificate must be returned by the employer to the office of the superintendent of schools from which it is issued, within two days after employment by him of the person named hereon terminates. Penalty for non-compliance not less than ten nor more than one hundred dollars."

One of the attendance officers in conversation with the writer this morning stated that certain corporations of the city pay no attention to this law and in many instances fail to return the certificates as ordered and this has been called to the attention of Edward Grant, state inspector of the board of labor and industries. The latter came to this city a few days ago and stated it will be his duty to bring some of the corporations into court if they do not obey the law.

Park Department
The superintendent of the park department is in receipt of a letter from a man named George E. Hooper of Silver lake, who offers for sale to the park department, a "handsome" monkey. The owner of the beast says the animal is tame and will not run away when frequent. Fort Hill park. Another party from North Reading offers for sale a pair of gray fox, which he will dispose of for the sum of $40. The Lowell Electric Light corp. has agreed to place 15 temporary lights on the South common for the municipal dance to be held on the evening of Aug. 31. It has been decided by the committee in charge of the event to wire off one acre of the land, cut the grass extra short and sweep the dust away, and 150 Boy Scouts under the personal supervision of Scout Master Alex. E. Williams, will do patrol duty on the evening of the dance.

Will Hold Hearings

Hearings on the following petitions will be held before Commissioner Morse at city hall, on the evening of Aug. 28:

By William H. Burgess and Howard W. Lang, that a sewer be laid in King street from the Jackson street sewer easterly 140 feet.

By Percy E. Varnum, that the sewer in Eleventh street be extended easterly about 180 feet.

By James J. Norton, that a concrete sidewalk be laid opposite the properties numbered 273-75-77 and 73 Chelmsford street.

By Otto Hockmeyer, that edgstones be laid in Hollywood avenue.

By the Lowell Bleachery and others, that Bleachery street be accepted.

Building Permits

Eliza J. Elmdes has been granted a permit to erect a two-family dwelling in front of 82 Rogers street. The building will be two stories high, 40 by 30 feet, and each tenement will contain five rooms with pantry and bath. The estimated cost of the building is $2500.

Eva Dokotis has taken out a permit for additions and interior alterations to her building numbered 67 Varney street. The improvements to consist of an extra room with pantry and bath and to cost about $700.

Weekly Payroll

The payroll for the week is $19,963.62.

Chauffeurs Examined

Examiners Hubbell, Haley and Bowman of the state highway commission, examined 25 candidates at city hall this morning, for chauffeur's license. City Solicitor Harold Varnum is enjoying a week's vacation at Sunset lake, Greenfield, Mass. He will return next Tuesday.

The 26th annual reunion of the Locke Family association was held Wednesday at the town hall in Rye, N. H. There were about 150 members present. Among those who died during the year was Mrs. Morris Locke, born in Lowell, who died on January 22 of this year.

A regular meeting of the members of the Lowell Socialist club was held last evening at 36 Central street with a large attendance. In the course of the meeting from Haverhill and William E. bringing from four to five cents a pound.

"Many newspapers that are paying $40 a ton for their regular supply are paying $80 per ton for any surplus they need and any newspaper so unfortunate as to have its contracts expire is being compelled to pay from $80 to $90 per ton for the whole supply, which is ruinous."

HITCHCOCK EXPLAINS BILL
WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Senator Hitchcock, democrat, a newspaper publisher, has prepared an amendment to the revenue bill intended to check the soaring prices of news print paper. Paper selling at $40 a ton and under would not be taxed. When the price passes $40 a ton a tax of one dollar a ton would prevail until $45 a ton is reached, when the tax would increase to three dollars and amount up gradually until a tax of $10 a ton would prevail on paper selling for more than $60.

"My proposed amendment is designed not so much to raise revenue," said Senator Hitchcock, "as it is to make it unprofitable for paper manufacturers to charge exorbitant prices for news print paper."

"The price of news print paper has been very stable for several years, until recently selling around two cents a pound at the mills. There has been an increase in the consumption of paper in the last two years for two reasons. First, the great increase in circulation arising from the war and, more recently, the increased volume in advertising due to prosperity. The result is that all surplus stock of paper has practically disappeared."

To Protect Publishers
The amendment would exact no tax from paper makers charging up to $49 per ton. Paper above $49 and under $50 would be taxed $2; above $50 and under $55, $3; above $55 and under $70, $4; above $70 and under $80, $5; above $80 and under $90, $6; and on paper selling for more than $90 a ton, a tax of $40 a ton.

"My amendment is designed not so much to raise revenue," said Senator Hitchcock, "as it is to make it unprofitable for paper manufacturers to charge exorbitant prices for news print paper."

"The price of news print paper has been very stable for several years, until recently selling around two cents a pound at the mills. There has been an increase in the consumption of paper in the last two years for two reasons. First, the great increase in circulation arising from the war and, more recently, the increased volume in advertising due to prosperity. The result is that all surplus stock of paper has practically disappeared."

Does Not Meet Demand
The mills are making about 6500 tons a day, and we are importing about 1200 tons a day from Canada, but this does not meet the demand. The result is that manufacturers that are fully contracted for are taking advantage of the situation to sell paper at exorbitant figures. While the great bulk of news print paper is selling at 2 cents a pound under existing contracts, all new sales are bringing from four to five cents a pound.

"Many newspapers that are paying $40 a ton for their regular supply are paying $80 a ton for any surplus they need and any newspaper so unfortunate as to have its contracts expire is being compelled to pay from $80 to $90 a ton for its whole supply."

WOMEN AT TILLERS OF RACING YACHTS SHOW SPLENDID SKILL

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Members of the Atlantic Yacht club have been exceptionally fortunate in having perfect weather conditions for their race week. There has been just enough of a southerly breeze to tempt the ladies to try their hands at sailing the small yachts, the only trouble being a shortage in the number of craft for the would-be sailors. However, twenty-three yachts were mustered for the opening regatta, one of the conditions of which was "ladies only permitted at the tiller from the time of preparatory signal to conclusion of race." The course lay from the Atlantic club-house dock across the bay to Bensonhurst, thence east along shore to Fort Hamilton and then back to the club-house deck, a distance of 7.5 nautical miles when sailed twice around, the movements of the yacht being visible over the whole course. Joy, which is the crack yacht of the Gravesend bay fleet and owned by Commodore Le Sauvage of the Bensonhurst Yacht club, sailed on the opening day by Mrs. W. T. Davis, was the first of the fleet to start shortly after the regatta committee—John R. Brophy, Samuel L. Finlay and Dr. Charles L. Atkinson—set the signal and was also the first to finish, making the course in 1:50.01, thus winning the first of the trophies for the lady skippers. Her only competitor was the Saginaw, sailed by Miss M. De Plesso, which was beaten by twenty-five minutes in actual time and 15 minutes with her handicap allowance deducted. Interest in the opening day's sport centered in the star class, with a dozen starters. The lot got across the line in a compact bunch with Capt. Minor, sailed by Mrs. C. L. Bonner in the lead, and Altair, with Mrs. E. V. Willis at the tiller, just astern, but in the weather position. Banshee, sailed by Mrs. Solist, and Shadow, with Mrs. W. L. Inslee acting as skipper, were next. The Altair had things her own way and finished 2 minutes and 14 seconds in front of Shadow. The pair of Bay-side birds—Curlew, sailed by Miss Lucy Willard, and Oriole, sailed by Mrs. C. L. Atkinson—finished just astern of Altair and in front of Shadow. Miss Willard won the trophy for the bird class with Curlew, the other winner being Mrs. H. G. Pimm, with Altair and Miss E. N. Hoffman in the third division of the handicap class with Spider. Layout shows some of the scenes of the regatta. No. 1, Mrs. Davis winning; No. 2, Miss De Plesso; No. 3, start of the big race.

DARING ROBBERY

Ames-Horne at Marshfield Entered—$1800 in Jewelry Taken

MARSHFIELD, Aug. 25.—One of the most daring daylight robberies ever known along the south shore took place at Marshfield, when thieves entered the home of Edward E. Ames on South River road, and, after ransacking the house, made their escape with $100 in cash and about $1800 worth of jewelry.

Mr. Ames, one of Marshfield's most prominent residents, was attending the fair with his family, and the house, which is in a rather secluded spot, was temporarily vacated. When the family returned they discovered that nearly every one of the plate glass windows in the house had been broken. A glance at the interior showed that it had been thoroughly ransacked. The house probably contained more valuables, including jewelry, silverware and important papers, than any house in this part of the state, and the fact that anything of value was left is probably due to the thieves having become alarmed.

By means of a stove poker and pair of scissors taken from one of the living rooms, the desk containing records of many estates of which Mr. Ames is administrator and other valuable documents was forced. The papers were torn in shreds and thrown at random about the room. An inventory of the valuables in the house escaped the notice of the thieves. Most of the valuables taken were jewelry, including a costly diamond pin, the property of Mr. Ames' brother, Lyman Ames, of Ohio, a watch, which was taken from the bottom of a trunk.

About $5000 worth of jewelry was not discovered by the thieves. Checks of all denominations were torn in two and thrown about the place. The robbers evidently were not tempted by liquor, for a decanter on the table was not disturbed and a well stocked vice closet in the cellar was not entered. The robbers visited nearly every part of the house.

VERMONT TO PAY TROOPS

RELIEF AND VOTING BILLS PASSED IN DAY'S SESSION—$35 MONTHLY FAMILY LIMIT

MONTPELIER, Vt., Aug. 25.—It took the Vermont legislature less than a day to provide for Vermont soldiers who were called to the colors by the Mexican border crisis and to make provision for their dependent families. Bills were passed yesterday by the special session, which convened yesterday morning, and were signed by Gov. Gates last night. The senate passed a bill providing means for the soldiers to vote in the coming primaries and state election. The house is expected to pass this bill and the governor to sign it in time for adjournment today.

Dependent mothers and fathers, wives and children not over 15 years of age, may secure financial relief from the state to the amount not exceeding $35 monthly to a family, according to one measure signed by the governor. Where a wife only is in need of aid she may receive $20 a month.

Another bill provides state pay of

$10 a month for the enlisted men in addition to their federal pay of approximately $15 a month. There was a difference of opinion on the question of mileage for the soldiers. The house passed a bill providing for a rate of 20 cents a mile one way, but the senate amended this to read 10 cents a mile one way. The bill in its amended form will be taken up by the house today.

The bill passed by the senate, which is intended to give the soldiers a chance to vote, provides for the usual method of balloting under the direction of regimental and company officers.

Except on the matter of mileage the bills proposed went through without any opposition. Gov. Gates sent a message in which he pointed out the propriety of the appropriations asked for and praised the efficiency and patriotism of the troops, quoting dispatches from the border commenting on the work of the men.

CAUGHT AFTER CHASE

ICEMAN ACCUSED OF ATTEMPTING TO ATTACK GIRL HELD GUN AT BAY WITH GLASS REVOLVER

BOSTON, Aug. 25.—After holding a score of men at bay by brandishing a glass revolver and a ice pick, John S. Higgins, 37, of 107 Chandler street, South End, was arrested yesterday afternoon on a street car on Hyde Park avenue, near Patten street, West Roxbury, by Patrolman William H. Gordon of station 17.

Higgins' arrest followed a chase of more than a mile, in which he was pursued by a gang of laborers, who had been attracted by the screams of a girl in Calvary cemetery, near the Milton line.

It is alleged that Higgins, who is a freeman, attempted to attack 13-year-old Mary M. Starinsky of Ashland at West Roxbury, who was picking flowers in the cemetery.

Her screams attracted the attention of a gang of laborers who were working nearby.

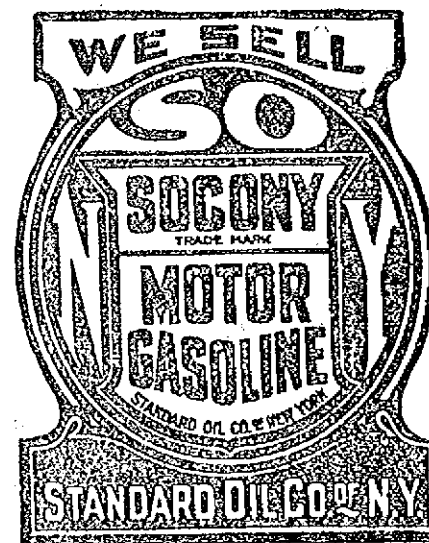

They gave chase, and were about to close in on the man when he wheeled and pointed the "revolver" at them. They disconcertedly withdrew, and Higgins boarded the car when it approached.

$10,000,000 FOR ROADS

$1,000,000 ALLOTTED FOR NATIONAL FOREST ROADS THIS YEAR UNDER FEDERAL ROAD ACT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Secretary Houston has just announced the plan to be pursued in spending the ten million dollars appropriated by the federal aid road act for the construction and maintenance of roads and trails within or partly within national forests, and has tentatively allotted among the various national forest states the million dollars which is expendable this fiscal year.

The tentative allotments to the principal national forest states are as follows: Alaska, $46,380; Arizona, $50,755; Arkansas, $11,234; California, $140,765; Colorado, $21,235; Idaho, $108,010; Montana, $65,291; Nevada, $19,195; New Mexico, $12,622; Oregon, $127,734; South Dakota, $33,155; Utah, $10,955; Washington, $31,773; Wyoming, $10,955. ## Washington Savings Institution Verification of Pass Books

Complying with the statute requiring the Savings Banks in Massachusetts to request depositors to present their books for verification during the year 1916, this Bank requests its depositors to present their books at any time during banking hours in the months of July and August.

THOMAS H. MURPHY, Treasurer

Ida, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, North Dakota and Oklahoma, while the eastern states—Maine, New Hampshire, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee and Georgia—in which the government is purchasing lands for national forests, have been allotted $21,057.

"In general," said Secretary Houston, "the states and counties will be required to furnish co-operation in an amount at least equal to 50 per cent. of the estimated cost of the surveys and construction. However, upon a satisfactory showing by the applicant state or county that such proportion of co-operation is inequitable, it may be altered and the ratio of co-operation fixed upon a basis equitable to both the state or county and the United States."

The method followed in apportioning the money was explained by Secretary Houston as follows: Ten per cent. of the amount available each year will be withheld as a contingent fund. One-half of the remainder will be allotted to the states in amounts which will be based on the area of national forest lands in each state. The other half will be apportioned on a basis of estimated value of timber and forage resources which the forests contain. Amounts apportioned but unexpended within three years, and any balance of the contingent fund which remains unapportioned at the end of each year, will be reapportioned on the same basis as the original allotments.

The two groups of states to which lump sums are allotted are, it was explained, to be considered as single units of apportionment. Apportionments now to be made are for the current fiscal year only. Thereafter new apportionments will be made, giving consideration to the number and character of applications made by the state and county officials for expenditures on specific projects. These applications must be filed with the district foresters in the seven national forest districts on or before Jan. 1 of each year, for the fiscal year beginning the following July 1.

The determination of the projects upon which funds will be expended during the current fiscal year will be made on the basis of applications which must be filed with the district foresters on or before Oct. 1, 1915. Each application must contain a statement of the public needs to be served by the proposed road and the manner and extent to which it would aid in the development of resources upon which communities within or adjacent to the national forests are dependent, and must also show the general location of the proposed road and its estimated cost. As already stated, in general states and counties must be prepared to furnish co-operation equal to at least 50 per cent. of the estimated cost of surveys and construction.

This co-operation may be in the form of money, labor and materials, or the construction of roads. Where other factors are equal, the approval of a project may be determined upon the relative amount of co-operation offered. Many applications have, it is stated, already been received for expenditures upon specific projects.

Lowell Team Defeats Hartford
by 6 to 2 Score—More Life Was
Shown by Players

The Lowell club apparently following in effect in the American league met the Hartford aggregation at Spaulding park yesterday afternoon despite the fact that it was dark and gloomy and the front row spectators were driven under cover by the drizzling rain.

At this late date it is not advisable to postpone games if there is any chance of playing them off and a few fans were brave enough to turn out. Those present saw their team trounce Hartford to the tune of 6 to 2 in an eight inning game called on account of darkness.

John Bousack, who has been a victim of hard luck nearly all summer, twirled a good game for Lowell. The eight hits made off him were so well scattered as to hold Hartford to one tally, the other one being the result of an error at shortstop. At times Bousack seemed to be losing control, but he always tightened up and with the help of his teammates kept the visitors far from danger. Opposed to Bousack was one Jordan, a spit ball artist. It was not Jordan's day and he was hit freely.

Ty Hoffrich performed like a regular Ty Cobb, driving out three hits that scored four of the six runs made by the team. Stimpson also continued his fine batting of the past week contributing a single and a double. Kane, with two fine throws from center, and Lowe at third featured in the field.

First Inning
Keegan, the first man up, cracked the ball to left field for a single but in attempting to reach second he was thrown out. Zimmerman died to Parker. Brickley singled to left field. Parker made a nice running catch of Lowe's long fly to right.

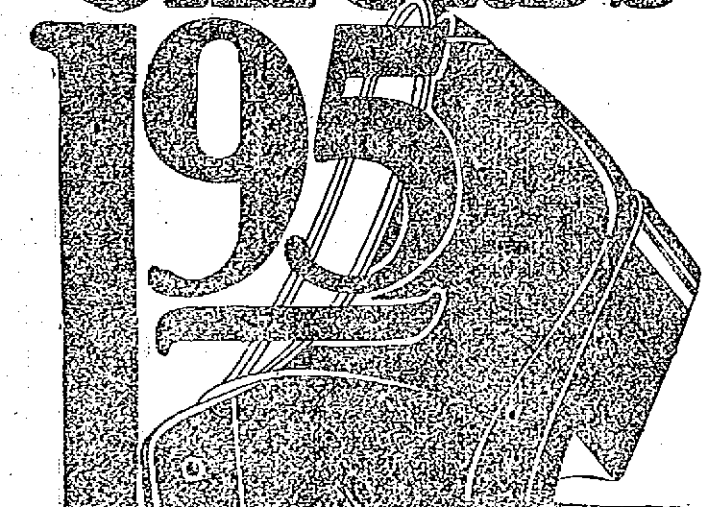

No runs, two hits, no errors.
Dee died to Brickley. Kane died at first on a grounder to Jordan. Stimpson singled to left field and went to third on Parker's single in the same place. Hoffrich drove a single to right scoring Stimpson and Parker. O'Connell fust died to Skiff.

Two runs, three hits, no errors.
Score—Lowell 2, Hartford 0.

Second Inning
Crowther walked. Skiff grounded out. Dee to Torphy. Wilson drew a pass. Fay fanned. Jordan hit to Hoffrich, forcing Wilson at second.

No runs, no hits, no errors.
Lowe made a nice stop of Torphy's drive and threw him out at first.

No runs, no hits, no errors.
Kane and Stimpson popped flies to Fay and Lowe respectively. Parker drove a long fly to Keegan at center.

No runs, no hits, no errors.
Score—Lowell 6, Hartford 1.

Eighth Inning
Lowe flied to Kane. Crowther grounded out. Hoffrich to Torphy. Skiff went to second when O'Connell made a bad throw of his grounder. Wilson singled to center, scoring Skiff. Fay hit one which Bousack could not handle and was safe at first. Jordan flied to Stimpson.

One run, two hits, one error.
At this point the game was called on account of darkness.

Final score: Lowell 6, Hartford 2.

PLAYERS LIKE SHOOTING

FIELD SPORT SAID TO KEEP EYES IN MORE SATISFACTORY CONDITION

The batting averages of the National and American baseball leagues are mighty interesting at this particular time.

Can Cobb repeat? That is a question asked by many fans. Others are greatly concerned in the performance of the 42 year old wonder, Honus Wagner.

At the present time Tris Speaker is still showing the way to Ty Cobb in the American league. The Georgia firebrand doesn't appear to be able to hit his stride of other years, but he has always been a demon on the field. Wagner's new lease on life is remarkable. He's only a few points behind the leader in the National league average. Both players are more exciting than in many years past.

Speaking of excitement, don't you think a transshipping competition between the most skillful ball players would make a lively afternoon's sport. Of course, all the players who are good transshippers are not in the same city at the same time, but nevertheless, they are interested, and no doubt a tournament could be arranged at a time that would be suitable to all of them.

Among the "big leaguers" who are experts with the trap gun, and think there is nothing better than firing at inanimate objects, are Ty Cobb, Ray Jackson, Charles Albert Bender, Leslie Joe Bush, Frank Baker, Grover Alexander, Bill Carrigan, Ray Morin, Wilbert Robinson, Christy Mathewson, Harry Davis, Tris Speaker, Jack Combs, Eddie Plank, Charles Clifford Cravath, Bob Shawkey, John Henry Wagner, Eddie Collins, Billy Killefer, Oscar Duguey, Bert Niehoff, Walter Johnson and Ernie Shaw. This is only a few, but it shows the calibre of the ball players who are interested in transshipping. By way of added interest it might be well to arrange a match for managers. Mathewson, Moran and Robinson then might shoot a match for the pennant. It would be an easier way than fighting through 15 ball games.

Some of these above mentioned players, notably among them being Mathewson, say that transshipping keeps their eyes in more satisfactory condition than any other exercise or diversion. Maybe this is the reason why those interested in transshipping bat so well and stick around so long in the big show. There is a reason.

EASTERN LEAGUE COMMENT

Worcester here again tomorrow.

There was some of the old "Burr-kett" life in that game yesterday.

Helfrich and Stimpson have started the timely hitting. Watch the others fall in line.

"I came out here just to see your pinch hit, Jesse!" shouted a fan. But it wasn't needed yesterday. The players came through.

Two or three times Bousack had trouble in locating the plate, but when he appeared to be going bad Jesse would start talking and each time he settled down again.

Kane made Lowe look foolish yesterday, when the Dartmouth boy attempted to score from second on a single to center. Kane has a great throwing arm and loses no time in getting the ball away.

Catcher Skiff gave a very poor exhibition of throwing to second which may have been due to the wet ball. Three bases were stolen in the fourth inning.

Brickley, the Hartford right fielder, is a brother of Charles, the famous Harvard football player. The Hartford boy looks as if he might make a good center for a football eleven.

Wilson, who struck out on nearly every appearance at bat Wednesday, had a perfect average yesterday. He was passed on the first two occasions and then hit safely twice.

After 12 innings of scoreless baseball yesterday, Portland beat Lynn on an error, a sacrifice and three singles. A double header was scheduled but the second game was called on account of the late hour.

The Lowell team played far better baseball yesterday than it has for some time. Manager Burkett kept the players fighting all the time. They also took more chances with satisfactory results. The same brand of baseball as was offered yesterday will satisfy the fans.

If anyone is in doubt as to why Portland is leading the league, read the following batting averages: Brown .301; Clemens .301; Loneragan .294; Dowell .287; Stewart .275; Burns .277; Tamm .267; Beatty .247; Gaston .242; Tuckey .211; Dornin .208; Martin .183; Mayberry .128; Plitt .103. Team .267. Opponents .215.

In the fifth inning, Tom Bannan missed a perfect strike on Lowe which would have sent him to the bench. On the next ball pitched, Lowe drove the pill to right for two bases, scoring the first Hartford run of the game.

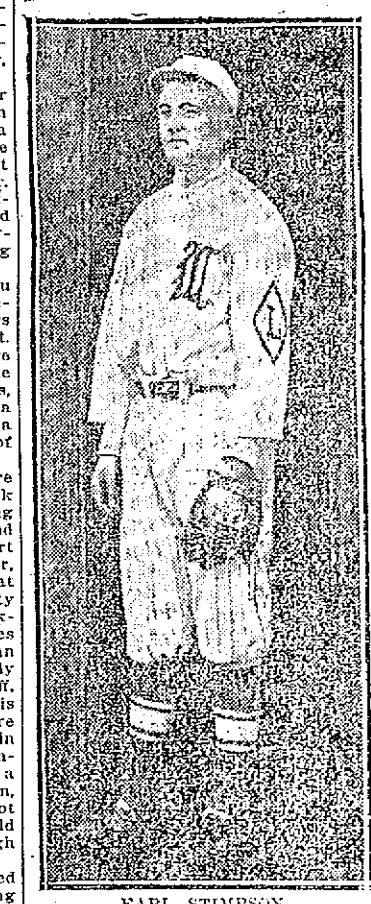

Many old timers will run out to Spaulding park tomorrow to again see Jesse Burkett, whom they remember back in the good old days of the New England league. Worcester will be our opponent again and Jesse will work his hardest to bring Lowell out on top. Worcester is going good at the present time and Burkett will have to do some hard fighting.

MAKES 100 HITS

Earl Stimpson the First Lowell Player to Enter Select Class

Earl Stimpson, the hard working left fielder of the Lowell team, made his 100th hit of the season in the game with Hartford at Spaulding park yesterday afternoon. He is the first Lowell player to reach the century mark.

Although Stimpson's batting average up to last Friday was .277, it will undoubtedly be considerably increased.

when this week's figures are issued, as he has been swinging the wand with great effect during the past fortnight. In the last six playing days, Stimpson has secured two hits each day or 12 hits in the week.

The Lowell left fielder is one of the most consistent players on the team. He met with considerable hard luck during the early part of the season, but he has improved steadily and is now batting at a clip which will soon land him in the .300 class if he continues to slug the sphere in anything like the style he has displayed during the past two weeks.

DIAMOND DAZZLES

Rube Ruth put the brush on the Tigers in fine style.

Harry Hooper and Tilly Walker performed well with the bat for the Red Sox.

The Braves are now nearer the lead in the National league race than at any time since the fight began thanks to the Reds, who defeated Brooklyn.

Philadelphia has nine more games to play with the Braves and eight with Brooklyn. The Braves and Dodgers have four games to play.

Joe Jackson made a gain on his batting rivals yesterday as the following figures show:

	ab	r	h	ave.
Speaker	2	1	0	.000
Cobb	1	0	0	.000
Jackson	2	0	2	.666

George McBride has been covering the short field for Washington for a long time, and is consequently slowing up somewhat. Griffith knows that he will have to replace the veteran eventually, and he has his eyes open for the man who is to get the job. Leonard is not the yet, but he may be by the time McBride is deemed unfit to continue to be a regular.

Frank Chance is doing so well with the Los Angeles team that it will not be surprising if Owner Weckman asks the peerless leader to come back to the Cubs next year. Chance would be royally welcomed in the Windy City, but he probably prefers to remain on the coast.

Home runs are far more plentiful in the National league than in the American. Three clubs in Ban Johnson's league have made twelve homers each, three others have made eleven and one has made eight. The Yankees are far in the lead, with twenty-seven. In the National league the figures are as follows: Cubs, 35; Philadelphia, 25; Brooklyn, New York and St. Louis, 22 each; Boston, 16; Pittsburgh, 14; Cincinnati, 12.

WOULD COST MORE NOW

HARRY HOOPER, STAR RED SOX OUTFIELDER, WAS ONCE BOUGHT FOR $25

Tris Speaker, Harry Hooper and Lou Gehrig have been ranked as the greatest outfield trio baseball has ever known. To many members of the Boston Red Sox for several seasons their worth and value to the club was reckoned at $75,000. That the figure was no exaggeration was indicated when Speaker was sold to Cleveland for a sum said to be in excess of $50,000. Hooper and Lewis would easily bring about $25,000 if the Red Sox decided to put them on the market.

These figures are interesting in the case of Harry Hooper. Less than 10 years ago, when he was first starting in baseball, a modest offer of $25 secured him from the Boston Red Sox. It was in 1907 that Bill Curtin was running the Sacramento club in the old State league. Sunday games only were being played, and Curtin found himself short of an outfielder. He took a fancy to Hooper, a youth who was with the Oakland State league club. Negotiations were opened and $25 bound the sale.

Hooper was just finishing up his studies at St. Mary's college. A position was found for him in Sacramento as a civil engineer for a railroad company, and Harry put in his Sundays playing ball. Hooper, by the way, proved a very capable engineer, and could have made his mark in that profession had not baseball proved so attractive. During 1907 and 1908 the outfielder cavorted with Sacramento in the State league, and in 1909 he was sold to the Red Sox. His services had increased in value, as the price was $20,000, and at that figure he is doubtless one of the most reasonable stars in the league.

The Californian jumped right into the lineup, and fans all over the country appreciate Hooper as a wonderful right fielder. He is an ideal lead-off man. While not a heavy hitter—around 350 being his usual station—he has a keen eye and is fast as a bullet.

Harry's forte, however, is his fielding. Like Speaker and Lewis, Hooper can cover a world of ground, and he has an arm of steel. He was an outstanding feature in the last world's series, and is doing his share this season to pull the Sox up into first place.

GRAND CIRCUIT

Donna Lona Turns Off Frost Grand Circuit Mile

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 25.—Volga, the undefeated 2-year-old of 1915, romped away with the champion 2-year-old stallion stake at yesterday's Grand Circuit races at North Randall. Volga was the favorite and easily the class of the field.

Charley Valentine gave a fine exhibition of driving when he piloted Donna Lona to victory in the 2:16 trot, defeating the favorite and won the Cuyahoga stake for trotters that had never won over $2000 gross and beaten 2:14 1/2 with Early Don. Donna Lona's first mile was turned in 2:55 1/2, which is a record for a 4-year-old this season.

H. K. Devereux in his attempt to drive Directum 1 to beat Williams' mark of 1:59 1/2, made to wagon with amateur driver, only reached 2:02 1/2.

Curt Gossett, driving Hazet Armstrong, in a trial heat, was thrown from his buggy and seriously injured. The summary:

AN OUTSIDER TRIMS THE FIELDS AT THE EASTERN MAINE FAIR RACE

BANGOR, Me., Aug. 25.—The racing at the Eastern Maine fair yesterday afternoon was the best of the week and furnished some surprises. The 2:21 class race was an upset for the talent, an outsider, Peru Bingen, owned and driven by Franz Simmons of Rockland, taking the race in three straight, beating the Brockton mare, Luella J., and the Calais horse, Mary Heir, picked as favorite.

In the 2:21 class an old-timer, Kohl McBeth, a trotter, made an unexpected comeback and cleaned up a field of pacers, including the favorites. The 2:20 pacing stake was an easy win for Charles Jackson, the one-armed driver, with Zog G. Drivers were changed on Todd's Echo by the judges and the third heat was somewhat closer. The summary:

A TERRIFIC EXPLOSION

Brockton Shoe Plant Struck by Lightning—Big Alcohol Tank Exploded—Many Injured

BROCKTON, Aug. 25.—Nine persons were injured, four of them seriously, a score of others were slightly hurt, and a financial loss of between $3,000 and $100,000 was caused here late yesterday afternoon, when a bolt of lightning, during the terrific thunder storm, struck an 800-gallon tank of denatured alcohol in the five-story factory occupied by the E. J. Gower company, causing a terrific explosion, which wrecked the rear of the building and then set fire to it.

Seven workmen, including those most seriously injured, were blown through the windows, landing just clear of the debris. The force of the explosion was terrific, lifting the roof from its supports and sending the building laden with tons of machinery, crashing to the ground. Seven lesser explosions followed the first, as the fire reached barrels of alcohol in the wreckage. These, with a gas explosion shortly after, made the work of rescue and fire fighting unusually hazardous.

One hundred and fifty workers, many of them girls, made a mad rush for safety, and for a time it was believed that several were buried in the ruins. Late last evening, however, all had been accounted for by the factory authorities and police.

Six men were at work in the vat room, in which the alcohol tank stood, when the lightning struck. Two of them, J. Edward Pike of Danbury, Conn., who was installing machinery, and Walter Sampson of Boston, a foreman, were blown through a window and received severe burns about the face and body. They were rushed to a hospital, where their condition is reported as critical.

Charles Dunn, a high school student of this city, and a foreigner who is known in the factory only by the name of John, also were removed to the hospital suffering from severe burns. They, however, are expected to recover.

Frank Nelson of Campbell, who was burned about the head and face, he is in the Brockton City hospital, but his condition is not critical.

Jose Staniewicz of Ames street, Brockton, burned about the arms and legs, was treated at the Brockton City hospital and sent to his home. His condition is not serious.

Contributions in order that this important relief work may be continued. Business men and corporations that had back until the money was actually needed, are now asked to come forward with their contributions so that the work may be carried on without any interruption.

ANOTHER BIG DROP

FEWER CASES OF INFANTILE PARALYSIS REPORTED IN NEW YORK TODAY

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—The epidemic of infantile paralysis showed another big drop today in the number of new cases and deaths reported. During the 24 hours ended at 10 a. m., there were only 22 deaths and 94 new cases, the lowest number in a month. Yesterday there were 31 deaths.

VICTIM OF PARALYSIS

GLOVERSVILLE, N. Y., Aug. 25.—Miss Helen Burr, seventeen years old, a student of Wellesley college, died here at Fultonville of infantile paralysis.

HUGHES COMING TO MASS.

WILL SPEAK IN BAY STATE ON SEPT. 9 AND 10—PRESENT TRIP ENDS SEPTEMBER 11

LARAMIE, Wyo., Aug. 25.—Charles E. Hughes' trip across the continent and back ends September 11th at Syracuse, N. Y., where he will speak at the state fair, according to plans tentatively adopted today.

Mr. Hughes will take a rest of two or three days at Bridgehampton, N. Y., and then start on his second trip. The itinerary of this trip has not been completed but it is known Mr. Hughes is desirous of going to Texas and making a number of speeches along the border and through the south.

Plans adopted today provide for addresses at York Harbor, Maine, on the afternoon of September 17th and at Portland that night. The next day he will speak at Lewiston, Waterville and Bangor respectively. In the morning, afternoon and evening. It is probable that the nominee will make addresses in Connecticut and Massachusetts, September 9 and 10.

On September 6, Mr. Hughes will have a thirty minute stay between trains at Cincinnati. It is possible that he will make a brief address there. He will go direct from Cincinnati to Maine.

After cruising in his yacht, the Surf, for two weeks, Mr. Carnegie and his party arrived at Bar Harbor. Mr. Carnegie had great difficulty in stepping from the launch to the pier. He leaned heavily on the arms of his attendants as he walked to the automobile, and he was noticeably exhausted. "I am not sick, I only feel tired," he told questioning friends. ## GERMAN VIEWS ON PEACE

Committee's Proclamation Says, "England is Our Special and Most Dangerous Enemy"

BERLIN, Aug. 24, via London, Aug. 25.—A proclamation containing views on the peace conditions which might be imposed by Germany is published today by "The Independent Committee for a German Peace," an organization formed some time ago by those considered to be the extreme war advocates in Germany.

The proclamation asserts that, despite the fact that the Germans and their allies are holding their kingdoms in their hands, the entente still talks of the destruction of the German empire and entente statesmen continue to indulge in a flood of abuse and lies about Germany, while themselves violating every principle of international law, forcing neutrals to enter the war against their better judgment, and endeavoring to force into submission, through hunger, millions whom their swords could not vanquish. "Our enemies will not succeed," continues the proclamation. "One thing they have accomplished is to force upon us the realization that England is our special and most dangerous enemy. England causes our enemies to stick together. England leads them. Upon England they depend and will depend more after the war."

The document asserts that Russian territory from the Baltic to Volhynia must in the future be included in the German sphere to serve as a bulwark against the Russian tendency to annihilate Germany. France's revenge ideas must constantly be kept in mind, so that in the west also changes would be necessary.

Belgium, in the future, adds the proclamation, either will be a German or an English bulwark, so real "guarantees" here are also needed.

The document then cites the expression of Dr. Peter Spahn, leader of the Catholic center party in the Reichstag, that "Belgium must lie in German hands militarily, economically and politically."

England's plan threatens us with political and economical helotry. It aims at our life as a people and as a state. It aims at our culture and institutions. Energy must be applied regardless of consequences to force peace upon this enemy. Let it not come true that, as England says, we will win all the battles, but England will win the war. With Von Hindenburg, let us say it is not only a question of sticking it out, but of winning."

REVOLUTION IN TURKEY

Sheriff of Mecca, Chief Magistrate of Holy City, Issues Proclamation—Independence Complete

LONDON, Aug. 25.—The grand sheriff of Mecca, chief magistrate of the Holy city, who announced his independence of Ottoman rule in June and, supported by Arab tribes, captured the Turkish garrisons of Mecca and several other cities, has proclaimed a definite rupture between Orthodox Mohammedans and those represented by the committee of union and progress, which now is in power in Turkey. In his proclamation, as forwarded from Cairo by Reuters correspondent, the grand sheriff denounces Enver Pasha, Talaat Bey and Djemal Pasha, young Turk leaders, staunch supporters of Germany and among the most powerful figures in Turkey. Djemal Pasha is commander of the Turkish forces in Syria and is reported to have adopted severe measures to crush the revolution.

The proclamation of the grand sheriff, addressed to "all our Moslem brothers" follows:

"We were one with the government until the unionists appeared. Since then ruin has overtaken the state, which now has been drawn into this fatal war. We bore with the unionists, notwithstanding their departure from the precepts of religion, until it became apparent that Enver Pasha, Djemal Pasha and Talaat Bey absolutely ruled Turkey, doing whatever they pleased. On one day they hanged twenty-one of the most honorable and enlightened Moslems, while children, old men and delicate women were bereaved of their natural protectors and subjected to foul usage, even torture. What stronger proof of their faithlessness is needed than the bombardment of holy places, such as Abraham's tomb and the killing of persons praying within a mosque?"

"God has opened the way to independence and freedom for us. Our independence is complete and absolute. Our aim is preservation of Islam."

AT SALISBURY BEACH

JITNEY RULES IN FORCE TOMORROW — SELECTMEN'S EDICT HITS BEACH CARS

The jitney regulations, adopted by the Salisbury board of selectmen, will go into effect Saturday and any jitney driver that is on the beach after today, without having complied with the rules, will be arrested for misdemeanor, and will be punished by a fine of not less than $5 or more than $20. The regulations require a bond of $1000.

The license fees are fixed according to the seating capacity of the jitney, including the driver, five or less, $10, and for additional seating capacity $2 per passenger. The license shall be good for one year from the date of its issuance. Regular service is required to be maintained over the entire route, and will be prescribed on the certificate, and there will be no Saturday, Sunday and holiday licenses issued.

A rule has been made to the effect that no driver shall knowingly carry or permit to be carried, any intoxicating liquors in the jitney. The lighting of the jitneys will be in a manner satisfactory to the board of selectmen. The selectmen will designate a place on Broadway, where the jitneys will be required to load and unload passengers, and will be prohibited from taking on passengers while the machine is in motion.

Chief Tapin has instructed his corps of policemen to enforce the regulations in a strict manner, and to show no favoritism. It is expected that a number of jitneys that have been running at the beach all season will be missing because of the high bond that is required.

SOME WISE SUGGESTIONS

STATE DEPARTMENT OF FISH-ERIES AND GAME SEND OUT SOME TIMELY DON'TS

The following "don'ts" contained in the little pamphlet giving new acts and amendments of the Massachusetts fish and game laws are very timely and worthy of the widest publication:

Don't throw a lighted match down; break it.

Don't smoke cigars or cigarettes in the woods or fields; if you must smoke, use a covered pipe.

Don't build any fires in the open without a permit from the town fire warden.

Don't leave a fire without covering well with water or sand.

Don'ts With Firearms

Don't point firearms at any human being or domestic animal. Keep the muzzle toward the ground or in the air.

Don't take a loaded firearm into a house, vehicle or boat. Don't set firearms down without unloading.

Don't jump or climb a fence or stream without unloading.

Don't shoot without knowing what you are shooting at.

Your hunter's license does not give you the right to hunt on posted land, reservations, parks or within the city limits.

Land owners have a lawful and moral right to say who may hunt on their property. Respect these rights and they will have more regard for you and your sport and recreation. Most land owners protect birds. The good they do eating weed seeds and insect pests repay them.

During severe winter weather hundreds of people are feeding them with grain and grit. You can help greatly by doing the same.

You should remember when hunting it takes a year to produce one adult bird; this may be destroyed in an instant. Kill large hawks, large owls, crows and other so-called vermin which are detrimental to the birds. Remember the fate of the passenger pigeon, once his numbers were now, a reward of $1000 to find one pair nesting in the United States.

A Few Fish Don'ts

Don't take fish that are full of spawn; leave them to deposit their eggs, and the small to grow into mature fish.

Don't take more than you need.

Don't try for the largest number; try for the largest fish.

Don't try to get the last one; leave some for others.

Report violations to the fish and game commissioners. Remember, this is your sport. Nobody is as interested in it as the hunters and fishermen and it is up to you to make or ruin it.

Feeding the Birds

With an iron rake scratch in waste places about fence corners, bristly patches or any waste place, and plant buckwheat, wheat, rye, kafir corn, sunflower or other grains to be left for birds in the fall and winter. In severe winter weather establish feeding stations. Clear away snow to the ground. Place grain and grit in hay chaff, barn sweepings or straw. Grit is necessary with hard frozen sunflower seeds. Build rough shelters of boughs on sunny side of stone walls, fences or other places where birds frequent. Leave two openings so they may escape their enemies.

TO DELAY ADJOURNMENT

RENEWAL OF SEN. OWEN'S FIGHT FOR CONSIDERATION OF CORRUPT PRACTICES BILL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Renewal yesterday of Senator Owen's fight for consideration of the session of his corrupt practices bill threatens to delay adjournment of congress.

Senator Owen said he would make a motion to call up his bill after the revenue bill was disposed of, and the test will come then.

In connection with his plea for action on his bill, Senator Owen declared the existing contributions law was a fraud upon the American people; accused senate republicans of deliberately trying to defeat his measure and charged that the so-called lumber trust had sent $40,000 in to Oklahoma to defeat his renomination because he voted to deny William Lorimer a seat in the senate.

HIS MILLIONS VANISHED

COTIERIE OF STRANGE CHARACTERS GOT $5,000,000 FROM AGED RECLUSE

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—Edward W. Morrison, the 80 year old recluse, whose vanished millions are a subject of investigation before Judge Landis in the United States district court was declared today to have lost property valued at $5,000,000 to a coterie of strange characters within the last 20 years.

Francis J. Houlihan, counsel for Morrison's creditors, declared that unscrupulous lawyers, women and habits of Chicago's underworld came into the life of the aged man, whose wealth was estimated from $3,000,000 to $5,000,000 to obtain his money.

He was taken on trips to other cities, Houlihan declared, women were brought to see him and new characters introduced to keep his fortune dwindling.

Search of the recluse's quaint old two-story home, in which it was thought he had concealed vast sums of money, revealed $1173 in cash and a bunch of old papers, cancelled checks and notes.

Subpoenas have been issued for the appearance in court of two Bernstein girls, Margaret and Alice, whom Morrison adopted and of whom their reputed father, Joseph Bernstein, a junk dealer, declares Morrison is the real father.

Under the terms of the will left by Morrison's father, James M. Morrison, the entire estate would go to the city of Chicago if the son died childless.

The Mexican commissioners decline to discuss their instructions.

WILL OF JOHN NESMITH

The recent compromise which the officials of New Hampshire made with the heirs of the John Nesmith estate of this city whereby New Hampshire received $50,000, has brought out the fact that in the will of John Nesmith two lots of land were bequeathed to the city of Franklin for a park or common. The lots occupy a fine location on what is known as Sanborn hill. Because of the fact that the conditions governing the bequest were never fulfilled by the city, however, the gift clause in the will became void. It was stipulated that the city of Franklin purchase the Sanborn cemetery in that town, remove the bodies and convert the cemetery into a part of the park with the two adjoining lots. The will was dated 1869 and by its terms Franklin was given 50 years in which to carry out the procedure.

IN POLICE COURT

court, Mr. Fox being allowed to go on his personal recognizance.

John J. Coughlin, collector of milk sales tax, testified that on the morning in question he called at Mr. Fox's place and took several samples which he turned over to Milk Inspector Masters at city hall.

Henry Blissette, a milkman, testified that he had a contract for five cans of milk for six months from Mr. Fox.

Milk Inspector Melvin F. Masters, who also conducted the case for the government, produced cards showing his analyses of the samples of milk and found that between ten and fifteen per cent of water had been added to the milk.

No defense was offered and, the court then found the defendant guilty and ordered him to pay a fine of $50. He appealed. Warren Fox, Esq., appeared for the defendant.

Charged With Assault

Charles A. Foye, through his counsel, George H. Allen, entered a plea of not guilty to a charge of assault on his wife on the morning of August 12. Daniel J. Donahue represented the government.

Mrs. Foye informed the court that she was married to the defendant on June 15. Since that time, she said, he had given her very little money and had done very little work. She said her husband assaulted her on three different occasions. The assault for which she got out a warrant for her husband was committed, she alleged, at the home of her brother in Appleton street, between four and five o'clock in the morning. She testified that her husband struck her without any provocation and discolored her eyes.

The defendant denied the assault and said his wife's discolored eyes was due to a fall against a folding screen.

The court, after summing up the testimony in the case, found Foye guilty and ordered him to pay a fine of $5. He appealed.

Spent His Wife's Money

Janek Wojcieck was charged with neglecting to provide for his wife and children. I., and remained there until the money was spent. The court sentenced the man to two months in the house of correction, but later suspended the sentence.

Another Neglect Case

Didn't Return Saw

Thomas M. Gaffney was charged with drunkenness and the larceny of a saw. According to the testimony offered, Gaffney went to a house in the vicinity of the Edison cemetery yesterday afternoon, and said that he was employed by the N.E.T. & T. Co. and that he had a pole which he wanted to cut into small pieces in order to take home. He asked for the loan of a saw and the woman of the house gave it to him. When he failed to return after a reasonable length of time, she notified the police and Patrolman O'Connell arrested the man. The complainant said that she did not care about pressing the case, all she wanted was to get the saw back. The court found the man guilty and gave him a suspended sentence of two months in jail. The case of drunkenness was placed on file.

Drunken Offenders

There were several drunken offenders before the court. One who was on parole from the state farm will be returned to that institution and another was given a suspended sentence to the state farm. Another received a suspended sentence of one month in jail and two were assessed $5 each.

STATE COMMISSION OF HEALTH PREDICTS BIGGER PARALYSIS EPIDEMIC NEXT YEAR

BOSTON, Aug. 25.—There are more people who have infantile paralysis and never know it than there are who have it in the dreaded and virulent form which brings paralysis and death in its wake.

Massachusetts will have more than three times the normal number of cases of the disease this year, but next year is expected to bring a much worse invasion of the startlingly optimistic view of the startling opinion.

These are two of the startling opinions voiced yesterday to a report by Commissioner of Health Allan J. Laughlin, head of the state health department, who recently returned from the national convention of health authorities at Washington, called together for the discussion and study of the infantile paralysis problem of the country.
